U.S. Satellite Experts View Future Events

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Russia hinted today, two weeks after its successful launching of the first earth satellite, that it hopes to have a "lunar physical station" on the moon shortly.

U. S. scientists said this is definitely within the realm of present possibility.

U. S. scientists called for more visual observations of the satellite while one of them said he was "shocked" at the complacent attitude he said he recently encountered in the Midwest concerning Russia's satellite launching feat.

Commenting on the Russian plan, Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, at Cambridge, Mass., said the problem of reaching the moon would not be much more difficult than that of launching a satellite.

Possible

"It is very definitely in the realm of present possibility," he said, adding that a satellite would have to be launched into space at seven miles a second to reach the moon, compared with five miles a second to orbit around the world.

The problem, he said, would be in the controls to aim the satellite at the moon and enable it to land there without destroying itself.

There has been considerable speculation the Russians might attempt a moon rocket Nov. 7 to mark the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

It was Dr. Hynek who said he was "shocked" at complacency in the Midwest. The complacency, he said upon returning to Cambridge, from a meeting at Columbus, Ohio, was among laymen and not scientists he met.

Although the Russian satellite has been aloft 14 days, Dr. Armond N. Spitz, coordinator of Visual Observation Moonwatch, said at Cambridge that there have been no more than 10 actual sightings of it in the free world.

Most of the sightings reported, he said, have been of the third-stage rocket which propelled the satellite into its orbit and then took off on an orbit of its own. The rocket generally is believed to be whirling near and nearer the earth and is reported some 23 minutes ahead of the satellite in their respective flights through the sky.

Picture

"We must universally impress on our volunteer observers that no matter how impressive the preliminary object—the rocket—from duty lies with the satellite, from which we hope to gain our most scientific information," he said.

A picture taken of the Soviet rocket by missile engineer Dan S. Elliott at Medford Lake, N. J., led to some speculation that the rocket nose may have split apart.

The picture, taken last Wednesday, shows a Y-shaped object with the open end of the Y in the direction of movement.

"Elliott said he believes the picture indicates the rocket nose cone split open when the satellite was launched into its final orbit.

U. S. scientists have speculated there actually are three objects in the sky—the rocket, the nose cone and the satellite itself. Officials said three observers have sighted a third object between the rocket and the satellite.

Estimate

She estimated Walter's income at over $50,000 a year, including his pay and expenses as a congressman and his salary as a vice president of a Philadelphia bank. The petition says two children were born of the marriage, one of whom died last year.

Mrs. Walter gave a Washington address.

She said she has pleaded with Walter to "be and remain a faithful and dutiful husband and father" but he refuses to respond.

She said Walter refuses to allow her in his office, talk to her on the telephone, acknowledge her correspondence or disclosure of his whereabouts to her.

Walter issued a statement later in which he said he was "very much surprised" by the suit. The statement, released by his secretary, Ruth Miskell, quoted Walter as saying that he "had been providing support and other expenses, aside from an agreement they (Mr. and Mrs. Walter) had made many years ago."

Mild Ripple

A mild ripple of excitement occurred this morning before the Negroes entered when an Arkansas National Guard officer ordered a white student to empty his pockets outside the building.

Out came several rubber bands and paper clips which the boy was suspected of shooting inside. The materials were confiscated.

Principal J. W. Matthews reported that "everything is running real smooth in the school."

An editorial in the semi-monthly student newspaper said "The first six weeks have left their mark on many Central students." The editorial said some scholastic standings had been damaged by absence.

Manager: "Very much, if you can get the undertaker to arrange it."

U.N. Plans To Debate Soviet-Syrian Charge Middle East Glances

By The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS — The 82-nation General Assembly voted 66-0 to begin full-scale debate next week on Soviet-Syrian charges that Turkey and the United States are plotting war in the Middle East.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge and the Turkish delegate denied the charges.

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union announced it would aid Syria if that country is attacked. It accused the United States of inciting Turkey to invade Syria with backing of the U.S. 6th Fleet, and charged that Israel was promised the chance of a new attack on Egypt if it joined the attack on Syria.

IZMIR — The U.S. 6th Fleet's guided-missile cruiser Canberra, two tanks landing ships and a transport loaded with Marines arrived in this Turkish NATO port for a friendly call. In Washington, the Navy said the 6th Fleet's major units will return to normal operations in the western Mediterranean within a few weeks unless there is a turn for the worse in the Mideast.

OTTAWA — Lester B. Pearson, Canada's ex-foreign secretary who won the Nobel Peace Prize for helping set up the U. N. Emergency Force last year to patrol Israeli-Egyptian boundaries, said the U. N. should shift UNEF to the Turkish-Syrian border. In London, UNEF's Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, a Canadian, told reporters he knew of no instructions for such a move, then flew back to the Middle East from vacation.

CAIRO — The Egyptian press predicted a Turkish attack on Syria immediately after Turkey's parliamentary elections Oct. 27.

ANKARA — The Turkish government released to foreign correspondents but not to its own press the contents of its note telling Syria that Turkish troops maneuvering on Syria's border do not threaten Syria but that the pro-Communist trend in Syria causes concern.

DAMASCUS — Syrian officials invited visiting Sen. Ellender (D-La.) to tour the country and check reports of Soviet penetration, which they denied. Ellender said he may return for such an inspection.

Vote Carries By Margin Of 66-0

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—The United Nations agreed tonight to a full-scale debate on Soviet-Syrian charges that Turkey and the United States are plotting to touch off war in the Middle East.

By a vote of 66-0 with a single abstention—Liberia—the 82-nation Assembly approved a recommendation of its Steering Committee that it take up the Syrian complaint that a threat exists to Syrian security and also to world peace.

The Assembly convened within 20 minutes of the action by the Steering Committee and decided to open the debate on a convenient date next week. This will probably be on Tuesday.

The Assembly completed its procedural action and adjourned within less than half an hour.

Both the United States and Turkey denied the Soviet-Syrian accusations, but said they had no objections to putting the Middle East crisis before the Assembly.

Committee

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the Steering Committee the United States welcomes discussion in the United Nations, and in particular the opportunity for a full airing of the Soviet allegations.

"I am confident that the United Nations discussion and investigation will show not only the absurdity of the charges against the United States and Turkey, but will also reveal the true source of tension in the entire area," he said.

Lodge said the Soviet accusations that the United States is plotting Turkey to attack Syria are "clumsy and flagrant fabrications," motivated by the desire of the Kremlin "to keep world stirred up, to keep the world excited."

He reaffirmed the pledge made by President Eisenhower in proclaiming the Middle East Doctrine that the United States will support any nation in the Middle East which might be subjected to aggression.

Turkish Ambassador Seyfullah Esin accused the Soviet Union of creating a "fictitious situation," and using it to "bring threats and intimidations" against his much smaller country.

Dangers

He said "One thing stands clear: The real dangers to the Middle East are being hidden behind a smokescreen."

Esin asserted that Turkey had conveyed to both Syria and the Soviet Union assurances that his government "did not in the least entertain aggressive designs against Syria."

He said Turkey had hoped by such assurances to ease tension in the Middle East, but this was shattered by the "fantastic accusations" of the Soviet Union.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said he would not give serious consideration to the Turkish delegate's comment.

"The guilty party wants to throw dust into the eyes of public opinion," Gromyko asserted.

He complained that Sir Leslie Munro, the Assembly president, had postponed action on the Syrian request for two days.

Vaccine For Lehigh Valley

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—Responding to letters of strong censure from the Lehigh County Medical Society, several manufacturers of Asian flu vaccine have promised to ship more serum to the influenza-ridden Lehigh Valley, where nine persons have died.

Dr. Charles K. Rose, chairman of the society's Asian Flu Committee, said tonight one of the nation's largest producers admitted the Lehigh County physicians were justified in their claim that this area has been slighted.

20 Flu Victims
ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Five more deaths reported today raised to 20 the toll taken by Asian flu or similar ailments in New York State since mid-July.

Nine Die In Lehigh Valley As Respiratory Ailments Continue To Sweep State

By The Associated Press

THE DEATH TOLL from respiratory ailments, including Asian flu, climbed to at least 25 in Pennsylvania on Friday, with the Lehigh Valley the hardest hit.

Nine persons died in the Lehigh area within the past eight days, and doctors attributed all the deaths to flu-connected respiratory diseases. In addition, seven persons, including six young patients, died at Pennhurst State School for Mentally Retarded Children in Chester County. The Pittsburgh area counted six deaths. Single deaths were reported near Towanda and Lebanon and in Delaware County.

The latest victim of respiratory infection at Pennhurst was a 41-year-old woman. Six children died at the institution earlier this week. It has not been determined whether the cause of death was directly allied with Asian flu. The names have been withheld in keeping with school policy.

Elsewhere throughout the Commonwealth the spread of virus and flu-like ailments continued with some indication the peak may be close by.

More schools and colleges were closed; additional hospitals cut back on visiting privileges; still more football games were postponed or canceled.

In some areas where flu rates had been climbing steadily, health authorities said the peak appeared near. No section of the Commonwealth was untouched.

The state Welfare Department, replying to criticism said seven children who died at Pennhurst would not have been inoculated against Asian flu because of their debilitated conditions, resulting from mental illnesses.

The department's reply was made by Dr. Robert A. Matthews, commissioner of mental health, to a statement by Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster) that it was a "tragedy of errors" that children at Pennhurst had not been inoculated.

Dr. Matthews said also that no inoculations were planned for Pennhurst children who have been exposed to the disease but have not suffered ill effects. He said reaction to vaccine administered now might be unfavorable.

State Police

State police said Bantelliff admitted painting the large letters on the wall of a house facing the Myers' home and also hanging out an anti-Negro sign.

There were demonstrations for 10 straight nights among white Levittown residents after Myers moved into his recently purchased home with his wife and three children.

Merger Of Boroughs Would Save $22,500

MERGER OF Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg would result in annual savings totaling an estimated $22,500 in the operation of tax-supported municipal functions.

The figure was incorrectly given in The Daily Record yesterday at $17,500. The mistake occurred in reporting the operations of the merged street departments.

According to the Pennsylvania Economy League, which made an extensive survey regarding potentials of consolidating the two boroughs, the two street departments, if merged, could be operated at an annual saving of $10,000.

A net payroll saving of $5,000 would result, as would a similar $5,000 saving in the cost of maintaining street equipment.

Other municipal functions could be operated at these savings if the boroughs consolidate: general government, $3,000; police protection, $6,500; fire protection, $3,000.

Community Chest Campaign To Feature Next Regular Report Meeting On Monday

CLIFFORD L. CRAMER, 1957 Community Chest campaign chairman, yesterday strongly urged all Chest divisions to "make every effort possible to reach donors during October."

Primary reason: Most of the nation—including Monroe County—is "Community Chest campaign conscious" during this month. October is set aside as the main month for United Fund drives throughout America.

Queen Wins Hearts In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II reigned supreme over Washington's hearts today—whether in quick little trips about town or at a star-spangled state dinner.

Elizabeth and her dashing husband, Prince Philip, darted in and out of the White House in President's Eisenhower's bubbletop limousine on such errands as this:

A visit by Elizabeth to the National Art Gallery and the Children's Hospital, by Philip to the National Academy of Sciences and by both together to a Capitol Hill luncheon, a brilliant garden party for the diplomatic corps at the British Embassy and an ultraformal banquet as guests of Secretary of State Dulles.

Relaxation

The royal couple started newsmen who have been trailing them on their North American visit when they both relaxed more than they ever had, during the British Embassy affair.

Elizabeth was observed at a tea with the wives of the Commonwealth ambassadors. Apparently unaware she could be seen through a window, she perched gaily on a sofa and chatted as happily as a suburban wife at a bridge party.

Elizabeth was seen to clap her hands in a girlish gesture, laugh until she shook. Then she caught sight of a couple of newsmen through the window.

Walter's Wife Sues For Non-Support

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Francis E. Walter filed a non-support suit today against her husband, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

She complained in her petition to District of Columbia Municipal Court that the Democratic congressman from Pennsylvania has ordered her out of the former family home in Easton, Pa., declines to maintain a marital home elsewhere, and refuses to support her in accordance with her needs or his means.

Mrs. Walter, saying she is in need of medical treatment and hospitalization, food, clothing and shelter on a regular basis, asked for a reasonable support award.

Goal

Cramer is asking division workers and leaders to attempt to "hit the 75 percent of goal" mark by Monday. "That's the date of the next Chest report meeting."

It's slated for 4 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud hotel. All workers are asked to get reports either in to the Chest office or to their division leaders by Monday afternoon.

House to house solicitation by residential workers continues after its kickoff last Monday. First general reports from that division will be heard next week.

Pearson Calls For Troops

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Lester B. Pearson suggested in the House of Commons today that deployment of U. N. Emergency troops along the Syrian-Turkish border be considered by the United Nations.

The former foreign secretary, recent winner of the Nobel Peace Prize and now a member of the Liberal opposition, asked the new Conservative government to consider instructing the Canadian U. N. delegation to explore with other U. N. members the possibility of doing that "in the interests of avoiding aggression."

He said the situation along the Syrian-Turkish border is tense and dangerous.

Sunday School Lesson

Paul Defends Role As Apostle Of Christ

Scripture—I Corinthians 9.

By Newman Campbell

IN TWO previous lessons we have learned about the dissensions among the members of the church in Corinth. The church Paul had founded. He had been informed that there was much argument there as one group claimed that, because Paul was not a member of the original 12 Apostles, Christ's constant companion, he was not really an Apostle.

Writing about this matter to the Corinthians, Paul defended his ministry and his claim to be called an Apostle. He writes: "Am I not an Apostle? Am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ, our Lord? are ye not my work in the Lord?"

We all remember the dramatic story of Paul

(then Saul) on his way to Damascus, bent on dragging Christians to Jerusalem in chains if need be. Christ appeared to him in a blaze of light from above, asking, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?"

Convinced then that Jesus was really the Son of God, Paul proceeded, by command, to Damascus, and after his experiences there he became one of the strongest and finest preachers of the faith for Christ.

Paul reminds the church members that "If I not be an Apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you; for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord." Surely as a missionary to these Corinthians, bringing the Gospel to them and founding the church, they should recognize that he was truly an Apostle, even if he was not one of the 12.

Paul then reviews his life and work as a minister of the Gospel. As a free man, he says he has a right to eat and drink, even to take a wife, although, as far as we know, Paul was not married at this time.

"Do ye know that they that minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers of the altar," Paul writes.

Surely those that preach the Gospel have the right to material rewards for their labors. Paul maintained. In our modern church life, the minister's duties are often very arduous. But Paul writes, "But I have used none of these things, that I be not unto me; for it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorifying void." If Paul did not want to be paid for his labors, it was because he felt, as he says, "If I do these things willingly, I have a reward."

In further defense of his apostleship, Paul points out that he is a free man among men, but that he has become the servant of all men. He has preached to the Jews to gain them to the great cause; to the weak, the strong, and the lawless.

Then Paul illustrates the race that Christians must run to obtain the prize of life. He writes of a race run in an athletic contest. There are many runners and all must run their best and ablest, but only one wins the prize, which would, after all be an earthly and temporary token of skill.

In the life of the true Christian, he too must run, and must fight to win, not a mere earthly or corruptible prize, but to obtain the "uncorruptible crown."

The lesson is not easy for the teacher of the younger classes, but, as Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests, they will be interested in a description of the race, and can be brought to see that they, too, are running a race, and if they go through life following in the steps of the Master, they will gain a prize which no one can take away from them.

Dr. Smith also suggests that if it is possible to get the minister of the church to be the teacher for this particular lesson, he would be the best instructor. If this is not possible, however, the teacher could discuss with the class the activities and problems of a minister, and their relations with him. It might be suggested to them some ways in which these young people could help to strengthen the church and aid their pastor.

National Bible Week is to be observed Oct. 21 through Oct. 27.

Venus In Spiritualist Movement

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Ap Religion Writer

People from the planet Venus are reported keeping a close but friendly watch on the earth these days.

This is the contention of a new spiritualist movement, which holds that messages from Venus are coming in regularly.

"They plan to begin long landings next month," said Robert Ewing, a Florida man who has made lengthy recordings he says are messages from Venusians.

Within organized spiritualism, a huge religious activity in this country with an estimated two million followers, such claims are keenly controversial.

Tradition

Traditionally, spiritualists have confined their mystic efforts to communications with departed souls.

In Portland, Maine, where America's most conservative branch, the National Spiritualist Assn., was in convention this week, trustee Dr. Victoria Barnes of Chicago said of the claims about Venus:

"We do not accept that."

The Rev. Dr. William Hubbard, president of the association, said the reports were "not dignified."

"We accept only that which can be proved. At this time, we feel this (communication with Venus) has no bearing on spiritualism."

Our board of education does not teach it."

However, some other groups are not so skeptical.

Ewing, 41, a psychology graduate of Dartmouth and a former commercial pilot, maintains Venus has sent word disclosing, among other things:

1. That they have eight large platforms, with landing strips and living quarters, circling the earth as satellites at a distance of 10,000 miles. Any view of them is prevented by the bending of light rays.

2. That for four years, Venus' space ships from these bases have been observing earth, with 462-foot "mother ships" hovering over the southeastern United States 15 miles up.

3. That Venusians are built like earth people, although generally a bit taller and finer featured, that they worship God, believe in life after death, have a civilization far advanced over ours, with the average life span 400 to 500 years.

4. That their original purpose in coming here was to halt pollution of space by radioactive dust from atomic blasts on earth, and that they have been releasing charges—the so-called "green fireballs" seen on earth—to counteract the effects.

5. That their intentions are entirely benevolent, but that they will not permit an atomic-hydrogen war which would contaminate space and perhaps destroy earth—that they will slap down any atomic missiles fired for war.

6. That they take on sides in the running dispute between Russia and the United States.

7. That they allowed the Russian satellite to stay up because it had no warhead, but that they are affecting its orbit and slowing it down by magnetism.

8. That they feel earth complacency about life on other planets has now been sufficiently shaken so that Venusians can begin visiting without causing panic, and they plan to start landings at selected sites in November.

9. That the visit will be stepped up, as earth people become adjusted to the idea, through 1958 and 1959, and that by 1962, Venusians with their advanced knowledge will have ushered in a "new age" on earth.

10. That on Venus, all disease has been conquered, that inhabitants are clairvoyant and understand thoughts of all others, that dishonesty is impossible, that news is transmitted by thought processes at the rate of 50,000 words per minute, that homes are built of a type of nylon-rubber-plastic substance, that the main danger is from electrical storms.

All this data, and much more, Ewing claims he has received in tape-recorded conversations with Venusians, partly with the planet's ruling counselor "Hamamatra" but mostly with a 250-year-old master teacher, Cymatral.

Presbyterian Home To Reap Area Harvest

MORNING SERVICE at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church will center around Harvest Thanksgiving. A display of the fruits of the earth will be arranged in front of the sanctuary. These gifts will be taken to Hazleton Presbyterian Home, Tuesday.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter will speak on "The Good of Christian Giving."

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Flory will welcome friends to the service and Mrs. Ashton L. Burrows and Mrs. William Crooks will have charge of the nursery. Mrs. Anna Miller will serve as Junior-Choir Mother.

Ernest Michelfelder, organist and choir director, will lead the Church Choir in the anthem, "Prayer of Thanksgiving (Kremer)" and the Junior Choir will sing "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us" (Nagle).

Michelfelder's organ numbers will include "Prayer" (Guilmont), "Adagio Cantabile" (Beethoven) and "Postlude" (Wagner).

There will be a meeting of the church session at noon.

Church School will convene at 9:45 a. m. with Gilbert Dunning in charge.

Members of the Westminster Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m.

A reception for the newer members of the church will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the church parlor. The Session and Women's Assn. are sponsoring this event. Junior and Senior Chords will meet for rehearsal Thursday at 6:45 and 7:45 p. m., respectively.

Rev. Wunder To Observe 10th Anniversary As Pastor Of Grace Lutheran Church

REV. AND MRS. William F. Wunder will observe their 10th anniversary in the pastorate of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, during the 11 a. m. worship service tomorrow morning.

Pastor William Wunder said last night "that it hardly seems possible that a decade has slipped away so rapidly. We're so very grateful for the abundant mercies showered by God upon all in His service. May the future be fraught with continued blessings for Him and His Church."

Rev. Wunder will base his sermon on the Epistle for the 18th Sunday after Trinity (1 Cor. 1:4-9) entitled it "An Epistle of Gratitude."

Altar flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O. Mervine in memory of her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Hanna.

Bulletins

Bulletins will be presented by Mrs. Caroline Vogler in memory of her husband, Anton; and by Mrs. Mary Woolbert in honor of the birthday of her husband, Stanley. Clarence Strunk, William Strunk, Fred P. Eyer and William Eyer will serve as ushers. Miss Sharon Read will be in charge of the nursery during the worship hour.

Both chancel and youth choirs will render appropriate anthems under the direction of Carroll All and Mrs. Ann Herman, respectively, with Miss Leila Bunnell at the console.

Church School is scheduled for 9:45 a. m.

The annual Sunday School Convention for Monroe County will be held Wednesday and Thursday in Grace Church with sessions each night at 7:30. Rev. Norman S. Townsend, of North Kingston, R. I., will be the guest speaker at both meetings.

The Women's Guild of the host parish will serve supper to the convention delegates on Thursday at 7 p. m. in the banquet hall.

Vesper service will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Smithfield. Craig Meadows, Sunday school at Cais Meadows is at 10 a. m. with Mrs. Aaron Smith Sr. and Raymond LaBar, superintendents, in charge.

During the song service at the beginning of the service, one of the hymns used will be one written by Dr. Donald Corson several years ago—"Give Your Heart To Jesus." Dr. Corson will direct this hymn sing.

Rev. Eaton's sermon is to be on the theme, "Obedience To The Unenforceable." Arthur Rath will be the soloist during the service.

Board To Meet

MOUNTAINHOME—Monthly board meeting of the Barrett branch of the YMCA will be held here Monday, Oct. 21 at 8 p. m.

Special Offering For Servicemen

A SPECIAL offering for the Ministry to the Servicemen and their families will be received tomorrow at the 11 a. m. service at the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg.

This offering is used for recruiting Presbyterian Chaplains, providing literature for them in working with servicemen at home and abroad, maintaining hospitality houses and ministering to servicemen's families in civilian communities.

The assistant pastor, Rev. Charles E. Staples, will preach on the topic "In the Presence of God." The Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wolbert will sing "Thy Church, O God," by Thiman.

A nursery for the convenience of parents with small children will be conducted during the church hour. There is a section for infants, one, two and three year olds with Mrs. Thomas MacMillan in charge and another section for children four years old and above with Mrs. Richard Turner in charge.

The Church School will convene at 9:45 a. m. with classes for children two years old and above, young people and adults.

At the 7 p. m. meeting of the Junior High Westminster Fellowship the Danny Kaye movie "Assignment Children" will be shown. Howard Alliger will be the worship leader.

The Senior High Westminster Fellowship at its 7 p. m. meeting will discuss the topic "Why Do We Give." The program will be in charge of the Witness Committee.

On Wednesday at 6:15 p. m.

the Family Night Supper will be held in the assembly room of the church. Reservations should be made by Tuesday noon with the church office, phone 2858. At the 7:30 Mid-Week Service the second in a series of talks on the theme "Religious Sects in America" will be given by the assistant pastor.

Immediately after the service at 8:15 p. m. there will be a meeting of the Church School officers and teachers. The first in a series of teacher training classes will be featured.

Miss Rosalie Fenton

Missionary Convention On Agenda

THE ANNUAL Missionary Convention of Christian and Missionary Alliance will be held at 336 N. Courtland Street, East Stroudsburg, tomorrow through Wednesday.

Miss Rosalie May Fenton will be the first missionary to represent the pioneer mission field of Indonesia. Indonesia is the sixth largest country in the world and the 60th member of the United Nations.

This great field was opened through the leadership of Rev. R. A. Jaffrey, who was prominent in mission work in China and Indo-China, including Viet Nam.

Opened

Indonesia was opened in 1929, since which time the pagans, headhunters and devil worshippers have become Christians by the thousands. The widely publicized story of Shangri-La is part of the story of the work of this mission.

The first service will be at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Rev. B. H. Hostetter as pastor.

Rev. Eichman Reveals Topic Of Sermon

CANADENSIS—"A Ministry Is Yours" will be the theme of the message by Pastor Charles W. Eichman at Canadensis Moravian Church tomorrow as the congregation observes Layman's Sunday at 11 a. m.

Several members of the church will assist in the conduct of morning worship.

An innovation will be a planned program for small children in the beginners' room during the morning service. Mothers with infants will be able to share in the service by way of the glassed-in balcony.

The Moravian Youth Fellowship for young people of 12 years of age and older will meet to reorganize at 7 p. m. Advisors of the group will be the pastor and Carl Loeb.

Sunday School is at 9:45 a. m.

Anniversary Celebration At Neola

NEOLA Methodist Church, of the Cherry Valley Charge, will hold its 124th anniversary and homecoming services tomorrow, with services at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

The afternoon services will be an informal one with words of reminiscence by a few of our former members who will return for the occasion. Mrs. Essie Abel, educator, of Hackensack, N. J., will be one of the speakers.

"Youth For Christ" will supply the music in this service.

Army Chaplain

In the service at night, Rev. Marland Shoemaker, chaplain (major) in the United States Army, located in Washington, D. C., will be the speaker. Rev. Shoemaker served the Cherry Valley Charge from 1832 to 1935.

The Pocono Male Chorus will sing several selections in the night service. Supper will be served about 5 p. m.

Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, pastor of the Cherry Valley Charge, will use for his subject in the morning services "Who Is Christ?" These services will be in St. Luke's Church at 10 a. m. and Cherry Valley Church at 11:30 a. m.

Nursery

The church-time nursery will be conducted by Mrs. Floyd Kellogg and Mrs. Harold Carlton. Memorial Flowers will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edinger in memory of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Edinger.

The WSCS will conduct the Vesper Service at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Harold Stiff will lead the service of Prayer and Self-Denial.

The reports on WSCS projects will be given as follows: Mother's Memorial Center, Mrs. Roger C. Stinson; Friendship Home, Mrs. Ray Welsh; Esther Hall, Mrs. Lloyd Miller; Peck Home, Mrs. Harry Miller; Hiroshima Jo Gakuin, Mrs. Chester White; Aoyama Gakuin University, Mrs. Merlin Rutt.

Rev. Blatt Reveals Topic For Sermon To Be Held At Zion United Church Of Christ

"THE ONE WHO SEES" will be the subject of the sermon at the worship service tomorrow morning in Zion United Church of Christ.

This is one of the series being presented by the minister of the church, Rev. Frank H. Blatt, on the general theme, The Reasonableness of Religion.

The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Dunn with Mrs. Lucy Quig at the console, will be heard in two numbers—"Eternal Light" by Buzzi-Pecchia with Mrs. Herbert Yutz singing the solo part and "The Soft Sabbath Calm" by Barnby will be sung by the mixed quartette of the choir—composed of Mrs. Herbert Yutz, Mrs. Sterling Warner, Grace Bartholomew and Victor Koch.

Flowers will be placed in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Gregory by the family.

Ushers at the service will be Edward Marsh, Bernard Rowe, Clinton Warner and Daniel Warner, and the acolyte at the service will be John Gilpin.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Beidler will serve as host and hostess before the service and Mrs. Robert Altomero will be in charge of the nursery beginning at 10:45 a. m.

On Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., the opening session of the Mountain Regional Guild Conference will begin in Zion Church. At 8 p. m. the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood will be held.

On Wednesday at 8 p. m. the Faithful Workers Class will assemble in the Sunday School room.

Rev. Bollier Listed Among 40 Students In Switzerland

REV. JOHN A. BOLLIER, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg, is among 40 students from 15 nations participating in the Graduate School of Ecumenical Studies at the Ecumenical Institute of the World Council of Churches at Bossey, near Geneva, Switzerland.

Ecumenical Studies are concerned with the quest of Christian unity and the world-wide cooperation of Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox churches. This year's course which runs from October to February will focus attention on the responsible use of power and on the missionary task of the church.

Students enrolled represent nine different denominations. Nine of the students come from the United States. Other countries represented are Germany, Australia, Canada, Greece, Korea, Brazil, Ethiopia, Formosa, France, Ghana, Iceland, India and Finland.

The Graduate School of Ecumenical Studies is affiliated with the University of Geneva. Its faculty includes distinguished teachers from Switzerland, Sweden, Germany, Great Britain and the United States.

Rev. Bollier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Bollier, of N. Tonawanda, N. Y. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and Princeton Theological Seminary. He studied at Wuppertal Kirchliche Hochschule in Germany.

Mrs. Bollier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lohian, of Detroit, Michigan, will join her husband in February at the end of the Bossey term for a six-week tour of Britain and the continent.

Meeting Of PSEA Cancelled

A SCHEDULED Oct. 22 meeting of the county branch, Pennsylvania State Education Association, was cancelled yesterday.

Local PSEA officials said increased illness in the area was the cause for the cancellation.

Refreshments will be served.

Homecoming At Tannersville

TANNERSVILLE—Homecoming services will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Tannersville Methodist Church. Special music will be provided by the Chapel Choir and the Chancel Choir of St. Peter's Union Church, Seamsville. The director is Homer Moyer, of Bethlehem.

at 7:45 p. m. A special program will be presented by the young people of the Paradise Valley Assembly. The program will be in connection with "Speed-the-Light," a program by which the young people of the Assemblies of God furnish the missionaries, and native workers with all of the needed transportation to effectively carry out their work.

Through this plan cars, station wagons, launches, airplanes, motorcycles, and even horses are provided to "speed the light of the gospel."

The theme of the program is "77 A Minute." In presenting this special program there will be a skit presented by the young people and also special music by the Young People's Choir which will be singing A. B. Simpson's "A Missionary Cry."

Choir rehearsal is at 6:45 p. m. tomorrow.

Service In Henryville

HENRYVILLE—The annual homecoming service will be held in Pocono Union Church tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

Local solos will be sung by Mrs. Grace Succow, accompanied on piano by Mrs. Alvin Ziegler.

Alvin Ziegler will also sing, accompanied by Mrs. Ziegler. There will be a special selection by Rev. Keller's three daughters, Nancy, Joy and DeLores.

All are invited to attend the services at First Church of Christ's Scientists, 8th and Monroe Sts., Stroudsburg.

'Critical Time' To Be Theme Of Sermon

IT IS EVIDENT that we are living in critical times and because of it we become confused.

Tomorrow morning at 11, Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, D.D., Pastor Emeritus of St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, will present a message revealing how Christ met a critical time during His ministry. Rev. Wohlsen's theme, "A Critical Time," is based upon the Gospel lesson of the 18th Sunday after Trinity.

Carl Yost will serve as acolyte for this service.

The nursery for pre-school age children will be directed by Miss Priscilla Steinhauer and assistant at 10:30 a. m.

A. E. Kitzman, J. B. Dunkelberger, Howard R. DeNike and Alan Keiper will serve as ushers.

Altar flowers will be placed by Mrs. H. H. Harris as a memorial to her mother, Mrs. Frances E. Shafer.

A chancel vase will be placed by Mrs. Bernita Deiter and family in memory of husband and father, Raymond Deiter.

Anthems

Richard Lindroth, choirmaster, announces the following anthems by the senior choir: "Hear My Prayer" by Arcadelt, and "Mighty Lord, Thy Faithfulness" by Lotti. Mrs. Ralph Bender Jr., organist, will use "Adagio from the First Sonata" by Mendelssohn as a prelude; "Prayer" by Gluck, as an offertory and "Fugue in G Minor" by Bach as a postlude.

The session of the church school and Bible classes will be directed by Arthur Kitzman, past superintendent of the school.

Topic Set For Church Service

THE VITAL necessity of individual application of the teachings of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science services tomorrow by the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement."

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is the Golden Text from Psalms (80:19): "Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved."

Selections

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (25:26-31): "Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

From the Bible will be read the following (II Corinthians 5:17): "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

All are invited to attend the services at First Church of Christ's Scientists, 8th and Monroe Sts., Stroudsburg.

IN HARMONY

The house lights dimmed, the director raised his baton, and the music of Brahms flooded the auditorium. Suddenly I was lifted into a world of sheer beauty and harmony. When the last notes of the symphony died away spontaneous applause greeted the director and the musicians.

What a thrill it would be to play in a great orchestra, I thought. Each instrument must be perfectly in tune, but until they play together there can never be the harmony or the volume of a symphony.

That's the way it is with life. We may strive to find joy and beauty alone. But only when we tune our lives with our Creator do we discover the abundant life.

Then united with fellow Christians in the Church, with Jesus Christ the Leader, we discover beauty and harmony, not only in this life but for all eternity.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Let's Hunt Safely

With its combination of woods and farmlands side by side, Pennsylvania offers a happy hunting ground for upwards of a million sportsmen.

Today marks the opening of the turkey and grouse seasons. Next Saturday is the first day for hunting pheasants and quail.

Gov. George M. Leader has taken advantage of the occasion to proclaim the period today through next Saturday as Hunt Safely Week.

There are a few persons, he declared, "who tend to forget that hunting is not a competitive sport — that the shooting of game is only a part of the pleasure they seek afield."

"Through carelessness, greed or ignorance, some of these people in past years have caused accidental injury to themselves or others. These men, women and youngsters can and should be taught that accidents do not just happen—they are caused and they can be prevented."

Logical Explanations

State Troopers, investigating reports of ice falling from the sky in Pennsylvania, have found logical explanations for all of them.

One was a cake of ice left in a field by a milkman; another a chunk of ice that fell from the back of a truck; a third a tray of ice cubes dumped by a night watchman.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's all a big joke," said Col. A. F. Atkinson, deputy commissioner of police. He canceled orders for troopers to report ice-

Soviets Invite War

Washington, Oct. 18.—The most foreboding confab of Soviet military chiefs since World War II preceded those ferocious threats Communist boss Khrushchev is hurling in the sister Syrian crisis. This extraordinary meeting took place aboard the cruiser Kuibyshev at Sevastopol, the huge naval bastion in the Black Sea.

Two days later in Moscow, in a widely-published interview with an American newsman, Khrushchev unleashed the first of his violent diatribes at Turkey—that it "would not last a single day in a war with Russia."

It is now known there was a direct relation between these two widely separated events. That Khrushchev's baneful outburst in Moscow was deliberate in timing and timing, and was triggered by the Red military commanders' council-of-war on the perimeter of the again-inflamed Middle East.

Since that initial menacing blast, Khrushchev and other Kremlin moguls have been fulminating with mounting belligerence.

This has resulted in a succession of increasingly ominous developments which have brought the tension-racked Middle East, and possibly the world, virtually to the brink of cataclysmic war. The stage is far more alarmingly set for that than is generally realized.

Unthinkable as war is, it could happen! Following the Sevastopol meeting, Zhukov and high-ranking members of his staff flew directly to Yugoslavia for a visit as guests of Marshal Tito.

One immediate outcome of this event was Yugoslavia's sudden recognition of East Germany. Zhukov is credited with intelligence having persuaded Tito to take this unexpected step.

Describing hunting accidents as a needless blemish on the record of a fine sport, Gov. Leader observed:

"If every hunter would take time not only during the hunting season but throughout the year to review his gun handling habits and to train others in the safe and proper use of firearms, this sport could be made completely safe."

Each year a surprising percentage of casualties are persons who shoot themselves or others in falling, pulling a gun by the barrel, crawling through a fence, or doing something silly with an instrument made to kill game but just as lethal to humans.

The Pocono Mountains area as usual will be a popular spot for hunters for the balance of the year. If every person who carries a rifle or shotgun into the fields and woods will follow Mr. Leader's advice to the fullest, there will be no hunting accidents—for which we all can be thankful.

falling incidents.

That makes one less threat to worry about. It would be wonderful if Asian flu, the implied threat of Sputnik, the Arkansas hassle and some other problems would go away too.

Perhaps they will, but it's fairly obvious that these worries cannot be explained away. The remedy for them would seem to be strong application of common sense and a heavy dose of hard work.—Pittsburgh Press

No Real Need For Change

Every state has its problems and its peculiarities. The state of New York is required by its constitution to ask its voters every 20 years whether they wish to hold a constitutional convention. If the voters so decide, there is an expensive jamboree in the course of which a host of politicians get $7,500 each for a short period of back-scratching plus expenses, some of which is untaxed, and all of which is grist to the mill for those who cannot earn their money in any other way.

Already Nelson Rockefeller, who is busying himself with New York affairs, conducted public hearings dealing with this subject, hearings which produced 633 pages of statements. Little of this material would indicate that a new constitution needs to replace the old one which while not a noble document is not likely to be worse than will be produced by another convention. After all, the Constitution of the United States has lasted 170 years and the original seems to stand up, although the Supreme Court goes out of its way to change it legislatively.

Just to show how queer these things can be, in 1858, the Legislature of New York State submitted to the voters the question of abolishing the executive and legislative departments of government and vesting such powers in the president, vice president and directors of the New York Central Railroad Co. Now here is the astounding fact: the question was defeated by the narrow margin of 6,360 votes, which just goes to show that voters sometimes will vote for anything.

Actually, there is no real need for such a convention in the near future and surely a constitution ought to last for more than 20 years. One reason that some want this convention, apart from the $7,500 plus it will bring each delegate, is to pass a reapportionment, which is not particularly necessary because there has been no enormous shift in population. Admittedly, the Democrats would benefit by gerrymandering, but wow at Sevastopol, brought an urgent Turkish appeal to NATO headquarters for a public pronouncement of support. This request was unavailing, on the ground NATO could not issue such policy declarations.

Premier Mendere thereupon got in touch personally with Secretary Dulles and strongly pressed him for a reassuring statement. After conferring with President Eisenhower, Dulles bluntly warned Russia the U. S. is prepared to back Turkey to the hilt in the event of attack. Simultaneous with this public move, a number of unannounced military measures were set in motion.

Flashes—The shifting of certain British air and naval forces in the Middle East has been agreed on by Secretary Dulles and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd. Discussions on this matter also are underway with the French. Allen Dulles, director of Central Intelligence Agency, is sending copies of private talks he is making throughout the country, to congressional and other leaders. In these addresses, Dulles, brother of the Secretary of State, stresses the competence of Russian scientists and their important military and related accomplishments. Dr. Arthur Burns, former head of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, is being sought as a right-hand assistant by recently-installed Treasury Secretary Anderson. Burns is critical of the Federal Reserve Board's "tight money" policy, and Anderson thinks very much along the same line.

One immediate outcome of this event was Yugoslavia's sudden recognition of East Germany. Zhukov is credited with intelligence having persuaded Tito to take this unexpected step.

Inside Washington

U.S. Scientists Scarce

Washington—Russia's successful launching of an earth satellite ahead of the U. S. is certain to touch off a new demand in Congress next year for legislation to encourage training of American scientists and engineers.

Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles, other administration officials and members of Congress repeatedly have warned that the U. S. production of scientists was falling far behind the Soviet Union's.

These warnings have fallen on deaf ears. However, now, with Sputnik I in space, legislators concerned about the Russian advance can be expected to act.

One result may be the approval at the next session of Congress of a long-pending bill by Senator George Smathers (D, Florida), to provide scholarships in scientific and engineering schools for sons of American war veterans.

Smathers' bill would provide that $100 million of the $256 in impounded Japanese and German assets would be invested in government bonds with the interest to pay for the scholarships.

Wilson and cows—Charles E. Wilson, who served as Secretary of Defense, longer than any other man, has returned to private life. However, the energetic former secretary will not be without a job.

Wilson is deep in details of the dairy and beef cattle business, which he is conducting from his big farm at Baton Rouge, La. He has thrown himself into the endeavor with as much enthusiasm and curiosity as he once did into the business of General Motors and, subsequently, the top Pentagon post.

For example, Wilson knows such details about his dairy cattle as the number of hairs per square inch on their bodies. Meaningless information? Not at all. Wilson says it is related to the ability of the cows to perspire and stand heat. Louisiana pastures, he explains, get pretty hot in the summer.

Wilson expects to process 200 dairy cows a day on his Louisiana farm. The farm is equipped with automatic milking machines that can handle 40 cows at one time. Five runs a day will handle the 200 cows.

Milk from the cows goes through the machines into motor tanks for hauling to a nationally known milk canner.

government but they concede that the problem is likely to exist so long as the Algerian issue remains to haunt the French. The United States, of course, has refrained from any public statement on the French situation because the change of government is an internal French issue.

However, it is of concern to the U. S. that one of its staunchest allies is unable to maintain a stable government for more than a few months. Sooner or later, it is felt, the French national assembly will have to face up to the Algerian problem and find some solution if France intends to salvage its prestige in Africa.

The fall of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunory's government was especially regretted in Washington because it came amid serious attempts to solve France's pressing economic troubles.

Memoirs of a Girl Friday

Dear W. W.: Strange tip from mid-west newspaperman. Says he is pretty sure Mrs. L. Ewing Scott is alive and residing in his neighborhood. Her husband is on trial in Los Angeles for her alleged murder. This newspaperman told me he wanted you to pay him for the tip.

When I asked for a sample of his proof, he said "Mr. Winchell will simply have to double-check." You'd think he'd contact the defense or the nearest policeman, since a man is accused of the woman's slaying. Anyway, I turned it over to the city desk. Linda Christian's memoirs start next week in the London Express.

Linda datelines the series with the name of Aly Khan's Riviera residence. She's living there, I understand, on a fellowship. N. Y. publishers of some mags for men (subpena'd to New Jersey for printing "indecent literature") were let go after promising to quit publishing.

America is holding missile tests in Florida. Things have been going higher and higher down there, but it's hard to link the land of coconut palms, soft music and a beach beauties with ballistic missiles.

Until now the only instruments of destruction in Florida have been the guided noon-hour cabana cocktail, and the northern tourist rushing to the horse tracks. A rocket or satellite that gets 500 miles into the air is important, but its surpassed every winter season by horse players with a ticket on a disqualified skate. There's been a lot of rocket failures at the Florida missile station and if it ever turns out a spaceship it won't break speed records unless they send an electric rabbit up ahead of it.

Old "999" first steam loco to do 112 miles an hour away back in 1893 has been on exhibition in N. Y. and drawn thousands. It brought back memories of the whistle through the hills when a locomotive seemed a living, puffing monster. There was a time when it was bigger than

Monroe County Schools To Reopen On Monday Morning

East Borough Classes Cut Yesterday

ALL MONROE County public schools will go back in session Monday morning.

Absences closed four earlier this week. One large district (East Stroudsburg Jointure) shut down at noon yesterday.

Whether they stay open in some areas will depend upon how many students show up for classes at the first session.

John C. Mills, principal at Pleasant Valley Schools (Chestnut Hill, Polk and Eldred townships), said last night that faculty members will check on the number of students in school when classes resume Monday. If there is an insufficient number, the schools will be closed again, Mills said.

Pleasant Valley Schools closed in mid-week in what Mills termed an "administrative measure." He explained that the term means that "we can't hope to get full value for our education dollar when students and some faculty members are ill or out of school."

At East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools headquarters yesterday at noon, Carl T. Secor, supervising principal ordered schools closed for the remainder of the day. They will go back in session Monday morning "unless a further decision is made," he said last night.

Secor said that there were 200 students out of the borough schools yesterday at noon and that an estimated 40 percent of the Laboratory Training School pupils on campus at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College were out during the day.

Elementary
Secor said that although students were beginning to return to school in the upper grades a sharp rise in the number of absences on the elementary level had put the illness list at a new high.

In Stroud Union Schools, Alfred W. Munson, principal of Stroudsburg High School, said last night that "about 50 percent of the student body" (total 900 plus) was absent from school yesterday. Munson said administrators have no plans to close the school.

Absences in Pocono Mountain Joint Schools were still not overly large in percentages, officials there said.

School administrators in all districts have maintained a constant contact with their medical advisers. In most cases the doctors have advised that "the children are as well off in school as they are out unless they are actually ill."

In the meantime, school nurses have been running full shifts with routine treatment.

Services For Mrs. Connors

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Mary B. Connors, Bartonsville, were held yesterday at Our Lady of Victory Church in Tannersville.

Mass began at 9:30 a. m. with Father E. Robert Galligan officiating.

The pallbearers were Louis Neagle, Robert Stadden, Robert Fields and N. J. Courtright.

Plans Made For Funeral Home

SOUTH STERLING—H. Howard Raught, Wayne County Coroner, will supervise undertaking and embalming at the Frey Funeral Home here, according to Edwin Frey, son of the late funeral director Charles Frey.

Charles Frey and his father, Russell Frey, who died within three weeks of each other, operated the funeral home for many years. Management of the home will continue now under the direction of Edwin Frey, Mrs. Hilda Frey, and Mrs. Lydia Frey.

ANYONE FOR PONTOONS?—Yesterday's heavy rainfall put water hub-cap deep for cars traveling on N. Courtland St. in front of East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School. Car passing here found it slow going. Headlights served to warn approaching motorists as sheets of rain obliterated vision. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Coolbaugh Pupil Hit By Car On Route 611

MOUNT POCONO—A seven-year-old girl was struck by a car on three-lane Route 611 one mile north of here at 3:50 p.m. yesterday, shortly after she left a school bus and was in the process of crossing the highway. She suffered a broken upper right leg and was in "fair" condition at General Hospital.

State police identified the girl as Linda Jane Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Daniels, Tobyhanna RD 1. She is a pupil at Coolbaugh Township School in Tobyhanna.

Police said the child and another pupil (a boy) had just left a southbound school bus operated by Ernest Wismer, Tobyhanna. The two children walked to the center lane of the three-lane highway and were waiting to cross the northbound lane.

State police pointed out that the highway at the scene of the accident is a three-lane and undivided route. Mrs. Dierion's failure to stop for the halted school bus was in direct violation of the motor vehicle code, as amended, police said.

Mrs. Dierion was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace John Grady in Tobyhanna last night. She entered a plea of guilty to the charge of failing to stop for a halted school bus. Pennsylvania law makes it mandatory that motor vehicles approach a school bus which is discharging or taking on passengers to stop from both directions at least 10 feet from the rear or front of the bus. Only exception is a divided highway in which case vehicles may proceed at the slowed rate of 15 miles per hour.

Heavy Rain Falls In Monroe Area

THE HEAVIEST rain of the Summer-Autumn season fell on Monroe County and surrounding areas yesterday.

The rainfall, which averaged about one and one-half inches in the county, was welcome by residents throughout the area.

Those people who had long found their wells and springs dry were hopeful last night that this rain would pump new life back into their water sources.

Damage
Monroe County had just experienced one of its driest summers in history and crop damage was extensive.

Yesterday's rain began in the morning and continued until a late hour last night.

Weather officials revealed that one and four-tenths inches of rain fell in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg district. Approximately 1.66 inches fell in the Mount Pocono region.

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 18 (U.P.)—Mrs. Melinda O'Callaghan, who says she is the mother of the new Mrs. Marlon Brando, broke into tears tonight and said she still has had no word from her daughter.

The bride, married in the United States last Friday, gave her name as Anna Kashfi and said she is a full-blooded native of India. Mrs. O'Callaghan said it was just a stage name and the dark-skinned beauty who went off to Hollywood was really just plain Joanna Mary O'Callaghan.

"Is our daughter disowning us?" Mrs. O'Callaghan asked, when a reporter told her Mrs. Brando had reported her parents were named Devi Kashfi and Selma Ghose.

"I've never heard of those people at all," Mrs. O'Callaghan insisted.

"My name is Phoebe Melinda O'Callaghan."

"My daughter was born in Calcutta on Sept. 30, 1934 (the date and place Mrs. Brando gave).

Milford Attorney Calls For Members Of Both Parties To Vote For Judge Davis

KRESGEVILLE—Sidney L. Krawitz, Milford attorney, last night cited the "sitting judge" principle as one of the major reasons for reelecting Judge Fred W. Davis at the Nov. 5 General Election.

He spoke at a well attended meeting of the West End Republican Club at Polk Township High School.

"The Pennsylvania Bar Assn. has long advocated the application of the 'sitting judge' principle where a judge has served ably and his competence and integrity are without question," said Krawitz.

"If ever this principle should be applied by voters of all political faiths, it should be as to Judge Davis by reason of his splendid service and his record of the past 12 years."

"It would be shameful and economically unsound for the voters to fail to return this splendid jurist to office and to fail to utilize his vigorous ability and vast experience gained over this long period of time."

Krawitz noted that in 1954, when "your own Judge Chester Rhodes ran for reelection to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Bar, regardless of political affiliations, strongly advocated his candidacy."

Judge Rhodes is a Democrat. We now feel as in that particular instance where a man of like character, integrity and ability was given bipartisan support, that his bipartisan support should be given to the candidacy of Judge Davis."

Krawitz added that Judge Davis has received the unanimous endorsement of all attorneys in Pike County.

The speaker said, "No judge in Pennsylvania has more keenly recognized today's problems of juvenile delinquency than has Judge Davis. . . . That his efforts have been recognized is indicated by his recent election as chairman of the Pennsylvania Council of Juvenile Court Judges."

B. K. Williams, county GOP chairman, introduced Jerry Snyder, state committeeman; Hanford L. Cleveland, state assemblyman; Donald Dimmick, candidate for county treasurer, and Judge Davis.

The judge based his appeal for support on the fact that his experience on the bench had given him the knowledge and competence that qualifies him to seek and serve another term.

Confusion Present In Filing Data

THERE HAS BEEN considerable misunderstanding among farmers as to the correct method for reporting their earnings for social security tax purposes, according to the social security district office in Easton.

Some of this misunderstanding is because there are many cases where the farmer has not made a net income of $600, with a profit and loss statement attached, if they net $400 a year. From this, it is plain to see that the self-employed person who makes between $400 and $600 per year must file the return and pay the social security tax even though he is not subject to income tax.

The law goes beyond this in the case of the self-employed farmer. He may exercise an option if he chooses. When the gross income from the farm is $1,800 or less he may report, for social security purposes, either two-thirds of his gross or the actual net earnings.

"Not only would the taxpayer save — so would the Court. The Court would save time that could be devoted to more serious business."

"So let's get away from the horse and buggy days. As we have modernized our highways, our schools, our homes and our way of life—let us modernize our courts. Forty-three counties in Pennsylvania."

Mervine concluded his address by noting that Chief Justice Jones of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has approved the plan.

Chest Club Host To New Member

STROUDSBURG Chess Club currently expanding its membership, greeted another recruit at its regular meeting Thursday night at the business office of club president, John M. Price.

The new member is James Harrington, high school student and a player deeply interested in the ancient game of kings.

Club champion Joseph Kushner, who had been absent a few sessions, was present and in fine fettle. His first victim of the night was Louis Mondelle who was defeated in a long and stubborn game.

Kushner then took on A. J. Vlossak of Mount Pocono and defeated the mountain member in two games.

Meanwhile, Edward Bosman and Harold James, two of the club's top-flight players, staged a series of interesting and stubborn games. James went down to defeat before Bosman in the first game, but James won the next set to handily and their third engagement resulted in a draw.

Easy Victory
Earl Weiss, one of the club leaders, won a rather easy victory from Mondelle and then took on Harrington and scored a victory from the newcomer.

Curtis Boushell, one of the club's younger guard, also played Harrington and defeated the latter in a quartette of games. Boushell transferred to the loser's end, when he played A. J. Vlossak, who captured two favorable nods.

Vlossak was defeated in a well contested game by William P. Deering.

Deering and Price, whose personal rivalry is often a feature of the club meetings, played three games all of them close and well contested. Deering took the first and third and Price the second game.

B. K. Williams, county GOP chairman, introduced Jerry Snyder, state committeeman; Hanford L. Cleveland, state assemblyman; Donald Dimmick, candidate for county treasurer, and Judge Davis.

The judge based his appeal for support on the fact that his experience on the bench had given him the knowledge and competence that qualifies him to seek and serve another term.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

In some ways, the wives of politicians have a more difficult time than Queen Elizabeth. Of course they share a common responsibility of putting their best foot forward, figuratively as well as literally, in all their public appearances.

But a queen is supposed to be the most splendidly dressed woman in any assembly—and the wives of politicians aren't supposed to outshine the big boys in any little pond. Yet they are supposed to be dressed smartly, and with enough distinction so that they don't disappear in a crowd when somebody wants to find them to shake their hand.

I thought Mrs. William Z. Scott had solved the dilemma very neatly at the party rally the other night. She wore a simple charcoal suit with a very small rhinestone elephant with a history that made an interesting talking point with any woman who mentioned that she admired it.

Her furry hat was big enough and distinctive enough in color to find from across the room but so severe in line that it didn't overpower the busts. Of course being pretty and blond definitely helped. And the fact that she genuinely likes politics and people helps even more.

What I am about to say now isn't going to win me any votes for anything except may be the meanest woman in town, but I think school authorities make a mistake letting pupils out of school on rainy days.

If they could have heard the howls of the mothers yesterday afternoon as hordes of wet-footed children went tramping around from house to house visiting friends and tramping in mud puddles, they'd think them much safer in a warm, dry school. Theoretically they're supposed to go home after lunch, change their wet shoes and stay there. I'll clue you—they don't.

VFW Auxiliary Contributes To Welfare

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Aux. at their meeting this week at the VFW Home made donations to three welfare projects. They gave $25 to the Community Chest; $5 to the Sister Kenny Foundation; and $25 to the Canteen Book Fund. They also planned for a covered dish supper for their next meeting, October 28. The supper will be followed by a parcel post sale, for which members are asked to bring packages worth not less than 25 cents and a cookie and cake sale.

Miss Dolly Mayberry Bride Of Robert B. Smith

Pocono Lake—The marriage of Miss Dolly M. Mayberry, daughter of Mrs. Frances Mayberry, Pocono Lake, and the late Harold W. Mayberry, to Robert B. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith, Pocono Lake, was solemnized October 5 at the Salem United Church of Christ.

Rev. Walter O. Long performed the ceremony. The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and pompons. Mrs. Eugene Miller, aunt of the bride, played the organ, and John Smith was soloist.

SHARON Levergood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levergood of Richmond, Va., who is one year old today, is the granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood, Cherry Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James, Stroudsburg. Her mother is the former Jackie James.

Escorted by her brother, Kenneth L. Mayberry, Glen Burnie, Md., the bride wore a full-length gown of white tulle net and lace, featuring a square neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point. She wore a shoulder-length veil which fell from a fitted cap trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Mrs. Kenneth Mayberry was matron of honor for her sister-in-law. She wore a long gown of turquoise satin in princess lines with a scoop neckline and circular skirt of unpressed pleats. Her headpiece was of matching net and she wore pearls, the gift of the bride. Her bouquet was of mums and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert Mayberry, Bridgeport, an aunt of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of similar style in shrimp color with a bouquet of mums and pompons.

Jacob Smith, Pocono Lake, was his brother's best man. Ushering were Franklin Mayberry, brother of the bride; Richard Smith, brother of the bridegroom; and Harold Carter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony lunch was served to about 150 guests at the Fellowship Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Tunkhannock High School and attended Churchman's Business College. She was employed by the Pennsylvania Sales and Use Tax Office, in Stroudsburg.

Mr. Smith is an alumnus of Tobyhanna Twp. High School and served four years in the US Air Force. He is now a partner of a dairy farm in Newton, N.J., where they will reside.

Pocono PTA Begins Year At Tannersville

Tannersville—John Ruehlman, president of the Pocono Township Parent-Teachers Assn. named committees at the opening meeting held on October 9. Mrs. Kenneth Starnier is program chairman; Mrs. John Ruehlman, refreshments; Mrs. Albert Coates, membership and Jorgen Ask, auditing.

Other officers are Mrs. Girard, vice president; Mrs. William Bue, secretary; Mrs. Fred Kresge Jr., treasurer.

New teachers were introduced including Miss Pace, Mr. Morrison and Mr. Sutton. Plans were discussed for the open house to be held at a later date.

Deborah Marie Frantz

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Frantz, Stroudsburg RD 3, became the parents of their first child, a daughter, on October 15 at the General Hospital. The baby, who weighed eight pounds 13 ounces, has been named Deborah Marie.

Mrs. Frantz is the former Mary Ace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durling Ace, East Stroudsburg RD 1. Mr. Frantz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Frantz, Stroudsburg RD 3.

Randy Clifford Graver

The first son born to Mr. and Mrs. Clair Graver of Phillips St., Stroudsburg, has been named Randy Clifford. He was born October 15 at the General Hospital and weighed seven pounds 11 ounces. They have a daughter, Roxanna, two years seven months.

Mrs. Graver is the former Frances H. Fraunfelder, daughter of Mrs. Salie Male of Pen Argyl and of Frank Fraunfelder, East Stroudsburg. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Graver, 1007 North Fifth St., Stroudsburg.

Gardens For People Not For Plants

"Gardens should be made, not for plants, but for people," Robert Ross, landscape architect of Paradise Valley told members of the Monroe County Garden Club at their meeting at Skytop Lodge on Thursday afternoon.

Gardens should be a place where people can find peace, and relaxation, he said, and added, "They should be livable." He illustrated his points with colored slides.

The meeting was held in the Pine Room of the lodge where Mrs. Raymond Price, Mrs. Ida Shaffer and Mrs. Laura Price of Barrett formed a reception committee to greet the guests. Fog and rain obscured some of the autumn foliage tour on the way up from Stroudsburg. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein, horticultural chairman, outlined activities in putting a garden to bed for the winter and told how the sugar content in the leaves determined their fall coloring. Mrs. Russell Hamblin and Mrs. Phelps reported on the district meeting of the state federation in Emmaus on October 15 which they had attended.

The Federation's Christmas party has been moved up to November 22, it was announced. Tea was served by the management of Skytop Lodge.

Open House Monday At ES Sr. High

Open House will be held at East Stroudsburg High School on Monday night at 7:30. The parents of children who attend grades 1 to 6 will meet with John Lambert in the auditorium. Parents of children in Senior High School will meet with Ralph Burrows in the library at 7:30 p.m.

From these meetings, all parents will go to their own child's classroom. Later they will meet together in the library for refreshments. Mrs. Ernest Farmer is in charge of refreshments. There will be no PTA business meeting.

DAR Story On Stones For Monday

Mrs. E. H. Calkins Sr., will present the program at Monday afternoon's meeting of the Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. "Story on Stones," dealing with epitaphs, grave and gay.

The meeting will be held at 2:15 at the Stroud Community House, and will be followed by tea with Mrs. Irving B. Seidman and Mrs. Arthur Kroll as co-chairmen of the hostess committee which includes Mrs. Mrs. George Marsh and Mrs. Robert Van Vleet.

New Leaders Volunteer For Girl Scout, Board Learns

An appeal for new leaders for girls who wish to become Girl Scouts has resulted in the addition of 14 adults who have volunteered their services as leaders and assistants for the County Girl Scout Troops. Announcement of the new leaders was made at the board meeting held Thursday night at the Girl Scout House.

A basic training course for all new leaders will be held on Thursday night at the Methodist Church in Stroudsburg at 7:30. Mrs. Mary Gearhart announced.

Also announced at the meeting are the various courses in badge work now in progress. The Horsewoman badge instruction will be given to a group led by Harold Lininger. Cook badge for Girl Scouts 12 years of age and older will be offered by Mrs. Noack of the PP&L Co. The skating badge work has already been organized. A new "My Trefoil Badge" was explained, a study for girls and adults based on the promise and laws.

Senior Scouts and adult leaders will receive instruction on "fun with felt" at the November 7 Leaders Club meeting. Mrs. Paul Flory, program chairman, announced.

Intermediate and Senior Scouts have been distributed 500 Community Chest folders, it was announced. A local troop was given permission to go to Pal-

AAUW Board Plans For Book Fair

The Book Fair, major project of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, will be held October 24, 25 and 26 in the Wyckoff-Sears basement, and the chairmen: Mrs. Robert Shaffer and Mrs. Wendell Wicks are still collecting books, magazines and records from those who wish to donate them.

The Book Fair was one of the items discussed at the board meeting this week at the home of the president, Mrs. David Mazer. Also discussed were plans for the November 4 program when a past president of the State AAUW, Mrs. John Howell Williams, will speak on "Front Page Story of Women of 17th Century England."

The board members as individuals contributed to a fund to be sent to the local Heart Society in memory of Dr. Harold Flagler, husband of an active board member.

Tentative plans were discussed for a study group on problems of mental health.

Wedding On Sunday At Hamilton

Miss Colleen Ann Jennings will become the bride of Herbert Courtwright on Sunday, October 20 at 2 p.m. at the Hamilton United Church of Christ, Hamilton Square. Rev. Adan A. Bohner will perform the ceremony.

Miss Jennings has chosen as her attendants Mrs. Adelaide Haney, Miss Annemae Hartshorn and Miss Sandra Coco. Best man and ushers are to be Harry Deiter, Robert Deiter, and Robert Courtwright. Friends and neighbors of the couple are invited to attend the wedding.

BPW Region Meeting Here Nov. 2

There's no doubt that the local Business and Professional Woman's Club is "federation-minded". Both their program and their business at Thursday night's dinner meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel are designed to make their members more aware of the value of federation.

The district meeting will be held at Buck Hill Inn on November 2, and a large representation is expected from the local club which will assist with many of the arrangements. Reservations must be made with Ruth Brown or Ann George before October 26.

The club also voted to send a delegate to the National Convention which will be held in Seattle, Wash.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Velma Lanterman, membership chairman, featured a "Do You Know? Federation Quiz". The answers brought out information about the value of the Federation to individual members, its purposes, policies and the meaning of the emblem. Among the facts brought out was that the BPW is the largest devoted entirely to the interests of Business and Professional Women.

Mrs. Connie Pentz was soloist at the meeting, with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Beer, a member of the club, as accompanist.

The officers table was decorated with Fall flowers, pumpkins, false faces and Halloween candies. Two BPW members from Dayton, Ohio, were guests at the meeting.

Cranberry Bog Talk At Medical Aux.

The treasure store of the history of vegetation in this area, represented in the Cranberry Bog, was presented by Thomas Knepp at the opening meeting of the Women's Aux. to the Monroe County Medical Society on Thursday night at the General Hospital.

The wives of lawyers and dentists were guests of the Medical Aux. Mrs. T. I. Metzgar welcomed the guests and reported on the recent luncheon meeting when the auxiliary decided to sponsor a trip to Philadelphia, and a Future Nurse Club Rally at the YMCA. Mrs. John L. Rumsey introduced Mr. Knepp.

Thomas Knepp, who recently spent a sabbatical year from Stroud High School where he is head of the Science Department on a Ford Foundation Fellowship to study geography and botany of the Poconos, is a member of the Cranberry Bog Preservation Assn.

The association, of which John Lillis is chairman, seeks to preserve the bog as a natural Museum rather than let it be sold for commercial purposes. The bog, which had its origin thousands of years ago, is a dense mass of plants growing without touching ground, and now so thick that they can support evergreens, he explained.

The bog has a deep carpet of peat moss, used for fuel (and for bandages during past wars) and includes plants found only in bog situations: bog rosemary, cinnamon fern, the fore Royal, iris, parniverous pitcher plant and sun dew, as well as several types of orchids, as well as the small cranberries from which it takes its name.

During the business meeting announcement was made of the district meeting when auxiliaries of Carbon, Monroe and Northampton Counties will meet November 12 at Lehigh Valley Club will hold a luncheon in honor of the state president. Reservations must be made by November 5 with Mrs. Morton Spinner.

When You Need part time PROFESSIONAL NURSING CARE AT HOME Telephone Stbg. 1293 VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION of MONROE COUNTY

If Betty Bartholomew, president of Women's Days at Wyckoffs, sounds choked with laughter on the radio spot in which she invites customers into the store, it's because she was . . . thanks to Joe Whelan and his WYPO colleague John Meunier. Betty and I remained after the regular Shopper program the other morning to do a series of spots, and Joe was in his usual clowning mood. By the time he had done a series of take-offs on Wyckoff Shopper commercials, complete with ad libbs by Sherry Widmer, Holt, and others, Betty and I were both hysterical. If our commercials were only HALF that good, we'd never need BUY time—we'd be on big time television right this minute PAID to discuss Wyckoffs' merchandise.

It was a pleasant surprise to find Jess Pierson, manager of our Sears-Roebuck store, waiting at the radio station the other morning to talk about the part Sears is playing in our Women's Days activities. Never before have we women had such wonderful cooperation from the Sears departments—and we're as delighted as can be. As a matter of fact, the biggest merchandise prize of all, to be given the one most nearly correct in guessing the beads in our Mermad's crystal ball, is a wonderful Hi Fi record player from Sears. I can't imagine anyone not wanting to win it—it's terrific! . . . Funniest incident of this Women's Days was the hard time I gave Tommy Rinehart the other afternoon. Tommy, who is our store's official greeter, hails everyone who passed him—and he was truly dismayed when handed a gift and told to be absolutely silent from then on until some woman spoke to him. "Don't you even dare blink at her," I threatened—"just wait until someone drops by to talk with you." Ordinarily it would have happened in a matter of seconds—but on that particular day, the women hurried by in silence, and Tommy grew redder, and redder. At last he began muttering under his breath, while Pat Bolcar, Dot Laubach, Elsie Miller and I watched, laughing, from the candy department. When Tommy was just about at the bursting point, one woman said "Hi, Tommy," and THAT WAS IT. Wonder if one could keep the female of the species quiet that long? We'll have to try it sometime . . .

Mary Dessinger of our shoe department told me a cute story. Seems a woman from Allentown was here shopping during Women's Days, and saying how happy she was to be part of the fun. "I always love coming to Wyckoffs," she said, "it's such a friendly store and I always find such splendid values. Just then the two women passed the cashier's desk on the mezzanine and Van Serfass called out, "Congratulations—you're the first woman to pass here wearing a green hat and we've a gift for you." The Allentown lady couldn't believe it—she still says Wyckoffs is absolutely the nicest, most incredible store she's ever been in. And being confident that the customer is always right, we agree . . .

Packies, of our Beauty Salon, drops by with a note reading: "While salesing with the Women of Wyckoffs, why not try our waves in the Beauty Salon." A good idea . . . and we might add that a woman with stringy, unkempt hair is certainly "see sick" . . . Maudie Walton tells me she's very glad we women finally had a tea or something—she'd been wondering all along just how to make me buy that stunning black feathered job in our upstairs millinery department . . . Well, this is the final day of Women's Days, friends—your last chance to win a mink stole, one of more than 350 valuable merchandise prizes, the turkey in Sears' deep freezer, and the Keller basket of jams, gems, and candies. SHOP TODAY—you may be QUEEN FOR THE DAY 12 prizes for "Lessest Queens" to be given throughout the day . . . To steal a line from "Tammy"—"I know that you know what I'm thinking of—Women's Days, Women's Days, all else above!"

Mrs. Rankin Succumbs In Allentown

MRS. ELLA M. Rankin, 77, formerly of Stroudsburg, died yesterday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lannon, 2711 W. South St., Allentown.

She had been in failing health since December. Born in Danville, she was the daughter of the late John W. and Ellen Allen Evans. She lived in Clymer, Indiana County, most of her life.

For several years, however, she lived in Stroudsburg with the Lannons. They moved to Allentown three years ago.

Church

Mrs. Rankin was a member of Allentown First Presbyterian Church; a life member of the Clymer Presbyterian Ladies Aid and Missionary Society and a member of the Indiana Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Besides her daughter she is survived by eight nephews and three nieces. Her husband, Joseph, died 15 years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Bence Funeral Home in Clymer. Friends may pay respects at Trexler Funeral Home, 1625 Highland St., Allentown, between 7 and 8:30 p.m. today.

Interment will be made in East Mahoning Baptist Cemetery, Purchase Line, Indiana County.

Christian Science Radio Program Set

THE NEED to go forward is the subject of the Christian Science program to be broadcast today from 9:30 to 10 EDT over Station WCAU (1210 kc), Philadelphia.

It is a part of the "Church of the Air" series, it was announced by William V. K. Shepard, Christian Science Committee on Publication for Pennsylvania, through his local assistant Mrs. F. Lee Banta of Stroudsburg.

Program

On this program is related the experience of one who relied entirely upon God for strength and healing and was thus enabled to "Go Forward" to complete an important project.

The address will be given by a former Reader in a Christian Science church. Miss Carol Courtman will be the soloist accompanied on the organ by Mr. Donald R. Carter.

Bangor Class To Feature 20th Reunion

BANGOR—Plans for the 20th reunion of the Class of 1937 of the Bangor Area Joint High School are being formulated by a committee composed of Anthony Farino, president; Mrs. David O. Pritchard, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harry Lambert and Mrs. Carl Kressler.

Previously it had been announced that the reunion would have been held on Saturday, Oct. 26 but due to the many illnesses and the scheduled Halloween parade in the borough a change in plans has resulted. The function will now be held on Saturday, Nov. 16 at Ye Saylor's Inn, Saylorburg, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Officers

When the class was graduated in 1937 Anthony Pellechia, now of Harrisburg, was the president; Miss Florence Giannino, presently a member of the high school faculty, was vice president; Russell White of Pen Argyl was secretary and Harold Albert of Bangor was treasurer. Armon M. Williams, a member of the school faculty, was the class adviser.

The class colors were cardinal and gold and the class motto was, "No Victories Without Labor."

The last reunion of the class was held at Altieri's near Washington, N.J., in 1947 at which time the class elected officers.

Named to serve at that time were Anthony Farino of Bangor, president; Harold Albert, of Bangor, vice president, and Mrs. Pritchard, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Stoltz, Jackson Township to Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Barnes III, Alexandria, Va., a lot in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Paul, to Mr. and Mrs. Clair P. Wallingford, all of Jackson, a lot in that township.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Oyer, Hamilton Township, to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Reimel, Stroudsburg, a lot in Hamilton.

Executors of the estate of William W. Philler to Eleanor S. Philler, Wynnewood, Pa., a lot in Chestnut Hill. Same executors to Henry F. Farnum, Ardmore, Pa., a lot in Chestnut Hill.

U.S. Remains Very Best In Planning

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—This government may have been licked on its planning for a Sputnik, but when it comes to planning a welcome fit for a queen it's mighty hard to beat.

It's not known here whether Queen Elizabeth said, as she accepted the invitation, "now don't you folks fix up anything extra for us." If she did, nobody paid any attention.

For she and Prince Philip arrived in the nation's capital today, and a brief rundown of these notes will show that No. 1 built the ark and the Crusaders went crusading with far less planning.

9:35 a.m.—I arrived at airport an hour and 40 minutes early. Military already on hand. Soldiers everywhere, and more busloads steadily unloading.

9:37—Arrived at platform where Elizabeth and President Eisenhower would exchange official greetings. Red carpet to protect royal toes already rolled out, and, since rain threatened, long yellow plastic on top of that, to protect red carpet.

9:45—Major hustled by, covered with ribbons. Went by too fast to determine if one had been given for similar valiant service rendered during arrival of King Saud.

9:52—Beginning to find airport concrete hard. Wished for a small piece of red carpet to stand on. Spent time studying diagram of ceremonial area, diagram of reviewing stand, diagram of parade route, diagram of ceremony at Unknown Soldier's Tomb, diagram of show at the Canadian Cross.

Evidence

10:15—More evidence of the value of advance planning. Yellow Air Force truck rolled up, three men piled out and began to use enormous air hose to dry off pavement where receiving line was to stand. Felt glow of pride at thought if Elizabeth ever visits Moscow, Russians will never think of that.

10:17—Reporters now arriving in great numbers. Jousting for position is so great decide not to try to extract pocket watch any longer. Instead keep an eye on Clement Conger of the State Department protocol outfit.

Conger undoubtedly most important man here. He's in charge of sticking down nameplates on pavement and reviewing stand.

Exchange To Observe Special Week

BANGOR—Bangor Exchange Club will cooperate in the observance of Pennsylvania Week next week with a dinner Wednesday at 7 p.m. at Greenview Guest Farm, Snyderville, serving as the highlight in the week's activities.

The dinner is open to ladies as well as members.

An out of state couple will be guests at the dinner, which is being arranged by Jay Sleep. Samuel Hicks is planning the entertainment.

The couple, to be selected the morning of the dinner, will be taken on a tour of the area first by Robert Barlett.

Attendance

Attendance of the club at the Sunday morning worship at the First Methodist Church will inaugurate the week's observance and a club float in the annual Halloween parade here next Saturday night will climax it.

Wednesday, Nov. 20, has been set as the date for the annual football banquet.

DICK FORSTER, former East Stroudsburg High basketball and football coach, who is having a great year in Lansford in football, was one of the many hit by the flu bug.

Dick was bedded down all this week after falling prey to the illness.

However, he got out of bed today to lead his unbeaten Lansford eleven against West Hazleton.

Nick Cutro, the Shippensburg halfback who had a good day against East Stroudsburg three weeks ago, is leading Pennsylvania Teachers Football Conference scorers with 26 points.

Just behind Cutro is Lock Haven's George Dintiman with 24.

Bob Kloess, the Community Bar and Grill owner who has followed fights since Jack Dempsey knocked out Luis Firpo out of the ring, forecasts that Eddie Machen will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

Kloess says, "They have been moving Machen along slowly and by the time he battles champion Floyd Patterson he will be ready to wear the crown."

Kloess is one of the best fight experts around, knowing everything there is to know about the pugilists. Wagerers seek his advice many times and the smiling barkeep isn't wrong on his predictions.

Jim Carlock, of Bergenfield, N. J., won the recent Pop Scott Memorial Golf Tournament at Mountain Manor. Second was Ric Riccardo, of Brooklyn, N. Y., while in third place was Cliff Eike, of Bridgeport, Conn.

The Ray Lambert-directed tournament featured 20 linksmen who had won divisional titles in play throughout the summer at the Marshalls Creek course.

BOWLING TIDBITS — Jim Harmon Sr. took over the average leadership in the Industrial League this week. Harmon had a 183.13 norm, a 11-pin edge over the idle Oscar Stuckey, the former pacesetter who now owns a 183.2 average.

Ralph Coleman, normally a 150 bowler, showed the biggest improvement for the week when he banged the maples for a 560.

Top matches in the circuit were produced by Harmon Sr., 620; John Flood, 579; Russ Dennis Jr., 572; Kenny Barnes, 567; and Bob Smith, 550.

Joe Hodgson is leading the average trek in the Monroe County League with a 179. Tied for second are Sam Strunk, Ken Fetherman and Tom Carmella Jr. with 174 each.

The CLU team posted a season high series with a 2624 and had a 999 singleton via the pin topping of Bob Feller and Stan Konawalk with 224 apiece, and Don Hartman's 204.

Oscar (Okay) Stuckey's 601 and 245 led Community Bar to its seasonal high match in the Monroe Classic with a 2736.

Tom Sommers heads the pack in averages with a 784, followed by Frank Laise's and Stuckey's 183 each.

Jim Harmon Sr. hit his second consecutive 600 night in the Commercial "B." This time the old vet hammered out a 614. This was good enough to enable Harmon to hold the average lead with 187.

His nearest competitor is Russ Dennis Jr. with 179. Russ had a 579 last week.

Small Game Opens Today

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18 — The opening guns of Pennsylvania's 1957 small game season will sound tomorrow when hunting begins for squirrel, ruffed grouse and wild turkey.

Hunting for rabbits, pheasants and bobwhites—the traditionally favorite targets of the sportsmen—will not begin until next Saturday.

Both of the seasons will run five weeks, the first ending Nov. 23 and the second, Nov. 30.

Experts of the state Game Commission look for good bags in all species of game this season because of the statewide drought of July and August.

The drought, while crippling farm production and resulting in other water-shortage damage, aided game by preventing drowning of scores of animals in normal rainfall and preventing spread of animal ailments that usually are more easily transmitted during wet weather.

Eastburg And Bangor Clash Today

Twice-Postponed Duel Set For Memorial At 8 P.M.; Stroudsburg-Slaters Off

EAST STROUDSBURG High and Bangor will try for the third time today to get in their twice-postponed game at Memorial Stadium, East Stroudsburg, starting at 8 p.m.

The Cavaliers and Slaters were slated to play last night but the tussle was postponed because of yesterday's heavy rains.

Today's third attempt by Bangor and East Stroudsburg to get their Lehigh-Northampton League "in" was set up late yesterday afternoon when Stroudsburg High requested cancellation of its Tuesday night game with the Slaters.

A heavy toll of illness in the Stroudsburg schools forced officials to ask Bangor to call off the tilt.

Prior to Stroudsburg's action, Bangor aides nixed the idea of playing the Cavaliers today, because of the nearness of the two games. However, when Stroudsburg bowed out Bangor and East Stroudsburg got together again and decided to play its L-N fracas tonight.

Undefeated East Stroudsburg will put its undefeated record on the line today, boasting a 3-0 record. Bangor, floundering out of two games, already, has failed to enter the victory circle in two tries.

Bangor is expected to go into the contest at full strength. Only Barry Reimer hasn't been up to par for the coming contest.

May Start

Starters for Bangor are expected to be Sal Molle and Keny Haas at ends; Bob Lakey, Gary Smith, Mike Menecola or Ron Mack at tackles; Larry Albert, John Martocci, Bob Collura or Larry Evans at guards; and Mike Piccerillo or Barry Gleim at center.

In the backfield it will probably be Frankie Butz at quarter; Barry Reimer, Louie Joella, Bruce Jones or Tim East at halves and either Bob or Tom Menhennitt at the fullback slot. Of all the possible starters listed by Coach Evans only two are seniors.

Head Coach Jack Kist will probably go with the same lineup which has notched three wins. At ends will be Wes Werkheiser and Bob Stine; Doug Smith and Foster Ladlee; tackles; Co-Captain Horace Cole and Denny Patti; guards; and Tom Long, center.

Backfield — In the Cavalier backfield will be the three speedsters halfbacks Roger Ray and Phil Simon and full back Carl (Corky) Smith. Charley Lupin or Bob Herman will call the plays from the quarterback slot.

U. S. Defeats Canadians In Seniors Golf

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., Oct. 18 — The United States defeated Canada, 3½ to 2½, today in the international senior golf competition over the Garden City Golf Club's 6,796-yard, par 73 course.

With six of the 16 U. S. players sweeping their matches, the host team won handily. Canada, which also lost last year at Toronto, held the lead after the foursomes play on Thursday 13½ to 7½.

But in the singles, the defending champions rolled up 31 points to only 17 for the opposition.

Scoring was the Nassau system of a point for each nine and another for the match.

Maurice R. Smith of Kansas City, Mo.; Martin Issler of Short Hills, N.J.; Paul A. Dunkel of Ridgewood, N.J.; Ellis Knowles of Rye, N.Y.; W. Hamilton Gardner of Buffalo, N.Y.; and Marvin Pierce of New York City each collected the maximum of three points for the victorious team.

PML Banquet Set Today

LAKE HARMONY, seasonal and playoff champions, will be honored at the Pocono Mountain Baseball League banquet at the Lake House, Saylorsburg, today. The fete will start at 7:30 p.m.

Jackie Farrell, New York Yankee official and producer of the Red Barber show from Yankee Stadium, will be the guest speaker.

Trophies will be awarded the circuit's top pitcher and leading batter as well as awards to Lake Harmony.

A big turnout is expected for the annually held affair.

Giants Face PCL Battle On Damages

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 — Next major item of controversial baseball business for the New York Giants comes on Nov. 1 when discussion opens on damages to be paid to the Pacific Coast League for moving to San Francisco.

First, the club directors must decide what they will ask. Then they make their request and negotiations start with the National League Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, whose new home is Los Angeles.

The Giants also seek approval of their recently announced minor league franchise shift. The package of that plus damages should extend the PCL's annual meeting in Sacramento to a two-day session.

Opposition has been voiced by two PCL directors to the Giants' trade of its Minneapolis club to the American Assn. to Boston for the San Francisco franchise in the PCL. The opposition was based, however, on the fact that negotiations on damages haven't begun.

The Giants offered to move the San Francisco PCL franchise to any other city approved by the Coast League. But approval of the travel itself requires a three-fourths affirmative vote of the PCL. Three negative votes could defeat the deal.

Sacramento

A Giants spokesman said the club would be at the Sacramento meeting to make its proposal. President Horace Stoneham is expected to head the delegation.

Fred David, president of the Sacramento team, said, however, "You can't approve something which would put you out of business. And nothing has been offered to the Pacific Coast League in the matter of compensatory damages."

President Emil Sick of Seattle's PCL entry had about the same approach when he said he would oppose the franchise transfer unless the Giants and Dodgers "get down to business with us" on damages.

Neither the PCL nor the Giants have done much mentioning of money figures. President Leslie O'Connor of the PCL said only that $50,000 per club wasn't a reasonable figure, and Stoneham said he hoped the figure would be much less than $100,000.

Engle's Father Is Dead At 81

MEYERSDALE, Pa., Oct. 18 — Irvin J. Engle, 81, of Salisbury, Pa., father of Penn State football Coach Charles Rip Engle, died last night at Meyersdale Community Hospital after a brief illness.

The elderly Engle attended the Penn State-William Mary football game last Saturday at Penn State and was presented with the football after his son's team won 21-13.

Calhoun Scores Easy Win Over Rocky Castellani

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 — Middleweight contender Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y., chased running Rocky Castellani all over the Madison Square Garden ring tonight to outclass the one time high ranking 160-pounder from Atlantic City in a 10-round farce. Calhoun, a 17-5 favorite, weighed 160½, to Castellani's 160.

The 23-year-old Calhoun, who is aiming for a title fight, did his best to make a fight of it but the 30-year-old veteran declined to give battle except on rare occasions. Referee Harry Kessler warned Rocky throughout the one-sided bout to "stop holding and make a fight of it." The warnings didn't help.

No Surprise

The lopsided vote for Calhoun was purely for the record and certainly no surprise to the 3,000 fans (gross take $7,300) in the first Garden fight in seven months. Many television viewers across the nation must have switched dials long before the decision was announced.

Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Harold Barnes each had it 9-1. Judge Tony Castellano had it 8-1-1. The Associated Press also scored it 9-1, giving Castellani only the third round. Barnes gave Rocky the third while Kessler awarded him the fifth. Castellano gave the loser the seventh round and called the third even.

Obtain Franchise

Mantle and his partner, Harold B. Youngman of Baxter Springs, Kan., obtained a franchise for the project from the motel chain.

Mantle and Youngman said it would be the first of a series of enterprises, which will include a supper club.

Miami, NCS Play To Tie

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18 — Unbeaten North Carolina State and Miami wound up in a scoreless deadlock tonight after a defensive football battle that kept 40,783 fans slumped in bored silence all the way.

Statistically, Miami ranks fourth and North Carolina State seventh in the nation in rushing defense. Unfortunately for the fans, this stinginess in giving up yardage was the controlling factor in a game that left absolutely nobody with anything to cheer about.

A Big Blow

MILWAUKEE — Billy Muffet turned in some fine relief pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals after he was brought up from Houston on July 30. He had a stretch of 432.3 innings in which he allowed no home runs. Then he gave up the biggest one of the National League season. It was an 11th-inning 400-foot drive by Milwaukee's Hank Aaron. It gave the Braves the NL pennant six days before the end of the race.

Countersuit Is Filed By 'Hurricane'

BELVIDERE, N. J. — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the challenger who was belted out in 11 rounds by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson last summer, yesterday filed a countersuit against Harry Freedman, owner of Harry's Farm, near Columbia, N. J.

Papers were filed in the Warren County courthouse here in which Jackson asks $10,000 from Freedman.

Hurricane claims the money is owed him for boxing and training exhibitions at the Delaware River resort while preparing for his title bout with Patterson.

Suit Says

Jackson's countersuit says, "a large number of spectators" witnessed the training exhibitions and paid an admission charge of $1 each to Freedman. The boxer who flew to the top of the heavyweight ranks (No. 1 contender, via his phenomenal stamina and unorthodox fighting ways also contends that Freedman and he had an agreement to share the proceeds of exhibitions equally.

Yesterday's Jackson action follows a move of last July taken by Freedman when the resort operator filed a suit of $35,000 against Hurricane and his manager, Lippy Ewidhart.

Freedman's suit claims in part that his resort business suffered because of Jackson's alleged slanderous remarks about the quality of food served there. Also Freedman asked damages for an alleged waiver of Jackson on a Sunday exhibition to appear on a national television show.

Jackson's suit was filed by Bernard W. Schnurr of Newark, N. J.

To Meet Machen

While Jackson was tossing his legal papers, the Far Rockaway fighter got back in the fistic picture again when he signed to meet Eddie Machen in a nationally TV bout in San Francisco, Nov. 13.

Ford Grabs Golf Title

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y., Oct. 18 — Doug Ford sank a 30-foot putt when pressure was on to add the Metropolitan PGA Championship and $500 first prize to his list of 1957 achievements today at the Concord International Golf Club.

In a tight final round battle with Al Fennelli of Purchase, N.Y., and defending champion Bill Collins of Grossingers, N.Y., Ford found himself needing the long one on the last green to win. He holed it and his 54-hole total of 210, made up of three straight 70s beat out Fennelli and Collins by a single stroke.

Veteran Coach Of South Dies

DELAND, Fla., Oct. 18 — Charles R. Williams, one of America's oldest foot ball coaches and the man credited with being the first in the South to use the forward pass, died in a hospital last night after a brief illness.

He retired last year and is survived by his widow Brenda.

Williams started his career at South Carolina in 1902 and later coached at Davidson, Clemson, VPI and Virginia.

He was a charter member of the national football rules committee and organized the old Virginia Baseball League. He was a member of the board of arbitration of minor baseball leagues.

Storm-Lockwitch Face Kupice-Thiel Tomorrow

THE long-awaited golf match, featuring teams composed of Harold Storm-Augie Lockwitch and Walt Thiel-John Kupice will be held tomorrow at the Glen Brook Country Club. Tee off time is 1 p.m.

Glen Brook officials announced last night that "open house" will be observed tomorrow for the large gallery expected to follow the foursome.

Interest High

The match, it has been announced, will be for the benefit of Glen Brook CC and the Varsity "S" of Stroudsburg Club. All proceeds derived from the event will be divided evenly between the two organizations.

Local interest has run high among area golf fans over the match pitting two amateurs—Storm and Lockwitch—and two pros—Kupice and Thiel together.

Storm is Glen Brook's club champion, while Lockwitch is one of the better players at the country club. Thiel is pro at Glen Brook, and Kupice is a play-for-pay linksmen who has made a mark for himself on courses in Massachusetts.

The match is being built around Kupice and Storm side, with followers of each predicting victory.

Storm and Kupice are old buddies, having been caddies at Glen Brook in their earlier days. Kupice is head basketball coach at Stroudsburg High and a teacher at West Main St. school.

Friendly Rivalry

The Lockwitch-Thiel angle reveals a friendly rivalry which has brought out good matches between the pair since Walt took over as professional at Glen Brook last spring.

A Glen Brook aide said last night that the match will provide an opportunity for the general public to "look over the beautiful foliage adorning the picturesque 18-hole site."

Plans are being made to handle a banner crowd for the event.

West Virginia Crushes GW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — West Virginia sprung a fleet of fast, crashing backs on George Washington tonight and powered its way to a 34-14 victory over the Colonials in chilly Griffith Stadium.

Five different ball carriers divided the West Virginia touchdowns as the Mountaineers easily registered their 23rd straight triumph in Southern Conference competition.

Ray Peterson, a sophomore halfback, raced 65 yards for the first West Virginia score and in an electrifying turnabout Mike Sommer dashed 71 yards for George Washington a minute later.

Chuck Howley had missed his placekick after Peterson scored, and when Dick Claypool converted on Sommer's sprint, GW held a 7-6 lead. It vanished before the opening period was out, however, as West Virginia covered 76 yards in 14 plays for the tally that put the Mountaineers ahead for keeps.

Quarterback Mickey Trimarki plunged a yard for the touchdown. Glen Shamblin went three yards in the second period for another Mountaineer touchdown.

After a scoreless third quarter, Mel Reight bucked for three and sub quarterback Dick Longfellow ran 19 for West Virginia's final scores.

In between the last two Mountaineer touchdowns, GW scored when end Don Herman blocked Yitney Mikani's punt deep in West Virginia territory and Ed Rusch recovered on the 1. Ed Hino then sneaked across.

7-5 Favorite

Idun, purchased by Mrs. C. Urick Bay at the 1956 Keeneland summer sales for $63,000, enters the race a 7-5 favorite on the basis of six victories in six starts. Actually the bay owned filly finished

Second to Bridgework in her first start, but the latter was disqualified.

Idun, winner of the Gardenia trial by a nose over Quig Flame last Saturday, has earned some $60,000. A victory tomorrow would make her a bargain even at the of $63,000.

Sequoia 4-1

The tiny native of Pennsylvania, king of the nation's jockey colony when it comes to bowing winners, hopes to shove unwatered Idun's nose across the finish line thus making her the princess 2-year-old of the year. If he succeeds, and the odds makers say he will, Hartack will have tied Eddie Arco's record of winning 40 stake races in one year.

Fifteen filly have been named for the mile and one-sixteenth Gardenia with $102,975 of a gross $144,475 going to the winning owner. The 4:15 p.m., JEST, race will be carried via radio, NBC, on a coast-to-coast hookup. There will be no television. The Gardenia is the first of Garden State's two big fall features. The second, The Garden State Stakes for 2-year-olds, is slated for Oct. 26.

Iwamoto Retains Flyweight Title

TOKYO, Oct. 18 — Japanese flyweight champion Masaji Iwamoto successfully defended his title against Takeshi Yamaguchi, Japan's fourth-ranking flyweight, in a 10-round knock-out.

Iwamoto, who is the world's No. 4 ranked flyweight, weighed 111½, to Yamaguchi's 111½.

'Have Nots' Get Chance To Help Decide Grid Crowns

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
The Associated Press

THREE OF COLLEGE football's haven't likely will have the say in deciding three of the season's most coveted honors. Washington State, something of an outsider in the Pacific Coast Conference race, bids for the Rose Bowl invitation against Oregon.

Oklahoma State, which has resigned from the Missouri Valley Conference, meets defending champion Houston in a game which may settle the Valley race.

And Pittsburgh, which hasn't played an Eastern team, goes after the Lambert Trophy, emblem of the Eastern championship, when it plays Army.

Here's how these oddities came about. Oregon State, last year's winner on the Pacific Coast, is unbeaten this year and a strong favorite to repeat. But the rules don't permit repeat appearances in the Rose Bowl.

Penalties

Conference and NCAA penalties have eliminated Southern California, UCLA and Washington from the bowl and its schedule eliminates Idaho. Of the four remaining conference team, Washington State has beaten California and Stanford and has been virtually wrap up the bid if it beats Oregon.

Oklahoma State is out of the Missouri Valley Conference and still ineligible for the Big Eight title. But the games against the Cowpokes still count for the other teams in deciding the Valley race. Oklahoma State already has beaten North Texas, Wichita and Tulsa. Houston, a likely two-touchdown favorite tonight, knocked off Cincinnati and will have a clear road to the title if it wins this one.

The big, mottled Pitt team regained its rating as one of the East's best after an opening loss to Oklahoma by whipping Oregon, Southern California and Nebraska. Army, jolted last week by Notre Dame, is Pitt's first Eastern opponent. A convincing victory would leave Pitt in a favorable position in the Lambert Trophy balloting for the rest of the season.

No Titles

No titles are up for grabs in the other major Saturday games and the big teams apparently aren't seriously hit by the influenza scourge which has caused the cancellation of more than a dozen contests. But the schedule indicates that some teams now ranked among the first ten may be in trouble. It goes this way:

Michigan State, No. 1, vs. Purdue, a low-ranking team which consistently has bothered the Spartans; Oklahoma (2) vs. not-to-trouble some Kansas; Texas A&M (3) vs. Texas Christian, upset winner over Ohio State but loser to Arkansas; Minnesota (4) vs. offense-minded Illinois; Duke (5) vs. Wake Forest; Iowa (6) vs. unbeaten Wisconsin (13); Oregon State (7) vs. UCLA; Auburn (9) vs. Georgia Tech and Arkansas (10) vs. Texas, which made Oklahoma look bad last week.

Notre Dame (8) has an open date between its games with Army and Pitt.

Some of the more interesting Eastern games on the program include: EAST—A Penn State-Vanderbilt Intercollegiate; Cornell-Yale; Brown-Pennsylvania and Harvard-Columbia in the Ivy League; Holy Cross-Dartmouth, Princeton-Colgate, Boston College-Villanova, Rutgers-Lehigh.

Match Show Of LVKC Tomorrow

BETHLEHEM—The Lehigh Valley Kennel Club will hold a Plan B-OB match show Sunday at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, on Pembroke road, Alternate Route 22, east of Bethlehem.

Dr. Andrew Klemmner, Pottsville, will judge the best in show. He also will do the sporting group and breeds.

Mrs. Hiram Ely, Flemington, will judge the hound group and breeds; Miss Hilda Knudsen, Rahway, N. J., working group and breeds; Kern Hines, Pipersville, terrier group and breeds; Charles Berto, Center Valley, toy group and breeds; Mrs. S. K. Allman, Doylestown, non-sporting group and breeds.

Judging
Judging will be held in the following classes: Puppy dogs, 4 to 9 months; puppy dogs 9 to 12 months; novice dogs and open dogs with the same classes in bitches.

Prizes will be given for the first in each group and ribbons in all classes and groups. Entries will be accepted from 11:30 a. m.

Judging in the breeds will start at 1 p. m. Warren Bernhardt, Keyport, N. J., will judge the open, graduate open, utility and graduate utility. Mrs. Robert F. Miller, Allentown, will judge the novice and subnovice and Mrs. Fred B. Franks, Allentown, the subnovice.

Prizes will be given for the highest scoring entry and ribbons in all seven classes. The Twin City Dog Training School will give a trophy to the highest scoring dog in show.

The show is sanctioned by the American Kennel Club.

Snead Shows Prowess To Japanese

By WILL GRIMSLEY

TOKYO, Oct. 18.—Sam Snead, aed Japanese golf fans with his booming drives today as he fired a 6-under-par 66 in his first tour over the Kasumigasaki Country Club, where the Canada Cup matches will be played next week.

Playing with his American partner, Jimmy Demaret, the slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., cut three shots from the competitive record of the rolling 7,000-yard layout on the outskirts of Tokyo, Par is 36-36-72.

"I'll never play golf again," one Japanese pro commented as he watched Snead nail seven birdies during his whirlwind tour.

Quit and Watch
Japanese golfers on the course quit their games, as did some of the Canada Cup competitors from other countries, to watch the famous American pro in action.

With no advance notice of the practice round, it wasn't long before the gallery had swelled to 200 who "oohed" and "aahed" with almost every Snead shot.

Demaret, who hasn't played competitively in several weeks, didn't keep a card, but his score didn't approach that of Snead. "It'll take me a week to sharpen up," the dapper pro from Klamath Lake, N.Y., said.

Tough Turks
Refuse To Grow Jittery

By WEBB MCKINLEY
ISTANBUL, Oct. 18 (AP)—Turkey is facing her gravest foreign crisis in a decade, but the tough Turks are not jittery. They are even wondering why all the excitement? Western observers have been impressed by Turkey's calmness and confidence as the Soviet-Syrian barrage of charges has boomed in.

Political, campaigning for the national elections Oct. 27 have ignored the threats in their speeches. Newspapers have treated the crisis as interesting, but not really world-shaking news. People talk about it rarely.

Story
A man on a bus—and he appeared typical—was told about Secretary of State Dulles' warning that America would attack Russia if Russia attacked Turkey.

"Huh," he said, "but what does the paper say about the elections?" To date the Syrian crisis has not been made even a minor campaign issue.

All this does not mean the Turkish government is passing off the Soviet and Syrian threats and complaints lightly. Heavy troop reinforcements have been sent into positions along the 450-mile Turkish-Syrian border for what the Turks insist are purely defensive purposes.

Prime Minister Adnan Menderes has accused Syria of becoming an arms depot for possible aggression. He has said the Russians are using Syrian complaints as a screen for their own aggressive aims.

Turkey also is known to have told American troublemaker Loy Henderson of serious concern over being put in a squeeze between the Soviet Union and leftist Syria.

Threats
The Turks, however, are believed to view Soviet threats as one more Gambit in the cold war, one more move to win the Arab world and isolate Turkey.

They have no faith in any Russian profession of good intentions. But they do not believe a shooting war is imminent.

They say Turkey will not attack Syria. They doubt if Syria would be foolish enough to attack Turkey, which has half a million hardened men under arms and a full army corps with modern armor near the Syrian border.

Barring a border incident which gets out of hand, the Turks see the real threat coming from Russia. But they know a Russian attack would start World War III and they doubt the Soviet leaders want this to happen now.

Turks are a resolute and supremely confident people.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaBar of Marshalls Creek visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Halterman and brought a birthday cake that had been backed by Mrs. LaBar in honor of Mrs. LaBar's uncle, William LaBar who celebrated his 80th birthday on October 8th and is staying with the Haltermans.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Cramer were Mrs. Cramer's sister, Mrs. Leonard Norris of Stroudsburg and Miss Betty Koplin of Riegelsville. Miss Koplin and her sister Cramer were roommates while in nursing training at the Eastern Hospital.

YOUR HOROSCOPE TODAY

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 19, 1957
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Stick to what you believe in, but listen to loved ones too. Curb tendencies toward impatience, exclusiveness. Be amenable to changing demands of the times.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Your powers of persuasion can be used to great advantage now. Also your ability to remember important facts. Perform with speed and vigor.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Excellent indications, but you must do your part. Grasp opportunity as it presents itself and concentrate on worthwhile objectives. Commercial lines are newly favored.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—You dislike arguments yet are at times aggressively restless in disposition. Heed the advice of others, be diplomatic.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Don't leap to conclusions. Make use of your wonderful intuition in analyzing problems, but study them, too.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—You are generally orderly and harmonious, thereby achieving fine results. You are good at gathering facts, and emphasizing those traits now in order to carry duties to successful conclusion.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Avoid gambling, get rich quick schemes, gossip. Watch diet, avoid overeating. Those in the musical and entertainment fields especially favored.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Better the deed you tried and did not succeed in, than the opportunity you let slip by. Make it a day of well-distributed effort and healthy play. Good reading, travel, or in many unexpected ways.

November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—With little fanfare you may be able to turn mediocre advantages into big gains, and in significant moments into bright memories. But your manner, ideas and decisions will be important.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Some close association with elders or very young people may prove highly profitable. You can put magic into your words; try today. Opportunity to make new gains through YOUR talents.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Especially good results indicated if you maintain peace and equilibrium. Perception, shrewdness should be keen now. Take advantage of all good opportunities.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Art, music, science, domestic affairs, children's and church interests, particularly favored now. Don't live on past glories or achievements or on others' words of praise or recognition. Keep seeking greater laurels.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with truth and integrity. If another person is honorable and really trying, you will fight bravely to defend him. You are both artistic and practical, can adjust quickly to new surroundings and difficult situations. You dislike untidy or unclean places, and even though of humble beginnings, are proud, just, forthright.

Stock Market
Backs Away
To New Low

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—A vigorous early rally turned out to be a flash in the pan today and the stock market backed away in moderate dealings to another new low for 1957.

Aircraft and missile stocks, leaders in the initial advance, remained mostly on the upside at the close. But steels and oils, which joined fairly well in the starting plunge, erased all but a small sample of their gains.

Closing prices showed losses among key stocks ranging from fractions to well over 2 points. Surivors on the plus side were up from fractions to a point or so.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.50 to $156.70 with the industrials down $2.30, the rails down $1.60 and the utilities down 30 cents. This put the 60-stock average and all of its components at new lows for the year.

Average
Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,870,000,000.

Of 1,184 issues traded, declines totaled 725 and advances 239. There were 263 new lows for the year and one new high.

Volume totaled 2,670,000 shares compared with 1,140,000 yesterday. Of the 15 most active stocks, 10 fell, 2 rose and 3 were unchanged.

Crucible Steel was the most active stock, off 1 1/2 at 17 1/2 on 47,600 shares, off 1/4 at 39 1/2 on 36,000 shares. Third was General Motors, off 1/4 at 38 1/2 on 34,500 shares.

Next came North American Aviation, up 1/4 at 26 1/2, and Standard Oil (New Jersey), off 1/4 at 52 1/2.

Prices also were lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 1,140,000 shares compared with 1,900,000 yesterday.

Corporate bonds continued lower as volume slackened. U. S. government bonds rallied.

Canvassers
To Meet

THE CANVASSERS for the Every Member Canvass of Christ Episcopal Church will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the parish hall.

This training session will be under the direction of Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, chairman of the Canvass, and the rector, Rev. Charles A. Park.

Schedule
The schedule for services on Sunday is: Holy Eucharist, 8; Family Eucharist and Church School, 9:45; Morning Prayer and Sermon, 11.

At the 11 o'clock service Rev. Park will preach on the Christian use of time, as the third in a series of pre-Canvass sermons on Christian stewardship.

On Sunday Oct. 27, the Venerable Dean T. Stevenson, Archdeacon of Bethlehem, will speak at all three services.

Tough Day In Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Reino Hayhanen's status as a onetime Russian spy was questioned in federal court today and his own words used in an effort to picture him as a liar.

At the same time he was depicted by the defense as a bigamist, a wife beater and a sot in an attempt to destroy the credibility of his testimony against Russian Col. Rudolf I. Abel, on trial for his life on spy charges.

Witness

Hayhanen, 37, the government's star witness against Abel, had testified he came to this country in 1962 to assist Abel in stealing American military and atomic secrets for the Kremlin. Defense attorney James B. Donovan introduced a 27-page, handwritten document in Russian which Hayhanen prepared for the government after he defected to the West last May, three months before Abel's indictment.

President To Meet Macmillan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan announced today that they will meet in Washington next week for a conference. This, in turn, may lead to other top-level Allied talks.

There appeared to be no doubt that the Middle East crisis, which has recently brought blunt war warnings from both Moscow and Washington, will be the prime subject for discussion and possible policy decisions by the British and American government leaders.

Dancer Gives Birth To Son

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Dancing star Carol Haney today gave birth to a son at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

The 4-pound 12-ounce baby was delivered by Caesarean section.

Miss Haney, star of the Broadway and film productions of "Pajama Game," is the wife of TV actor Larry Blyden.

Sunday School Convention Set

THE 62ND ANNUAL Monroe County Sunday School Assn. convention will be held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The convention will be held at Grace Lutheran Church.

Rev. Norman S. Townsend, pastor of the largest Sunday School in Rhode Island, will be the featured speaker during the course of the conference.

Rev. Townsend's Sunday School has grown 1,600 percent in 12 years and he is continually speaking at conferences and explaining the various methods that may be used to improve Sunday Schools across the United States. He is also New England's Representative of the National Sunday School Assn.

The regular Fellowship Banquet will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday at Grace Church. Reservations for the conference may be made by telephoning Stroudsburg 4715.

'Tom Bennett Story' To Be Shown At Rally For Youth

"THE TOM BENNETT STORY," a sound and color film produced by Youth For Christ International, will be shown today at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, Broad and North Courtland Sts., East Stroudsburg.

The impact of YFC high-school clubs on the life of a lively teenager is the central theme of this film. Solutions to teens' problems and pressures today are suggested in the story. Young YFC actors previously seen in the film "Seventeen" are handling the heads.

Quiz Teams

Tonight's YFC quiz teams are Stroudsburg Junior High vs. Pocono High. Winner of the last quiz was Barrett High. Special music tonight will be provided by the girl's trio of YFC and Elizabeth Frailey will sing a solo.

Suit Against General Motors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The U. S. comptroller general has referred to the Justice Department for consideration and appropriate action a two-million-dollar claim against General Motors Corp. arising from alleged overpayment for aircraft.

A spokesman for the General Accounting Office said the comptroller, Joseph Campbell, forwarded to Atty. Gen. Brownell on Monday the GAO report on a special investigation in the contract with GM's Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac division for F84F airplanes.

Witnesses Planning For Assembly

THE EAST Stroudsburg and Brodheadsville congregations of Jehovah's witnesses are making preliminary plans to attend a three-day semi-annual circuit assembly at Phillipsburg, N.J., Nov. 15 to 17 it was announced last night.

Fred Severud, presiding minister of the group, in discussing this announcement to the congregation at the climax of the weekly ministry development program, pointed out that the scriptural command to "assemble ourselves together" constitutes important counsel to Christians.

While this is done regularly within the congregations of Jehovah's witnesses, keen interest is manifested when larger assemblies such as this are arranged.

Morale

"The object of the program," Mr. Severud said, "is to equip every one of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's witnesses in the practical use of the Bible and help in fortifying the spiritual morale of the people in our community." He further said, "One of the requirements for every Christian that is set forth in the Bible is that he be 'apt to teach'."

"For that reason the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day Phillipsburg refresher program, have set the theme of the assembly as 'Qualified to teach,' he explained.

"We sincerely hope that the advanced training planned for us there will enable us to live closer to the Bible and its teaching," Mr. Severud said.

The scheduled program will be held in the Phillipsburg National Guard Armory.

Two officials of the Watchtower Society of Brooklyn, N.Y., will be the principal speakers: Mr. P. R. Ruggles, the circuit supervisor, and A. A. Catanzaro the district representative and under whose direction the convention program will be handled.

Highlighting the assembly program will be the lecture, "What are the Prospects for Lasting Peace?", at 3 p.m. Sunday Nov. 17, 1957.

Rev. Blatt At Meeting

REV. FRANK H. BLATT, pastor of Zion Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, attended the 18th Fall meeting of the East Pennsylvania Synod, United Church of Christ (E and R), at Memorial Church, Easton, yesterday and last night.

Rev. Blatt is chairman of the synod committee on church and ministry. The denominational chairman of this group, Rev. Harold H. Wilke, D. D., of Cleveland, spoke at yesterday afternoon's conference.

Dr. Wilke, who was born without arms, leads a normal life and is considered one of the most brilliant leaders in the denomination.

Acreage Reserve Agreement To Remain In Full Force

ACREAGE RESERVE agreements under the 1957 program remain in full force and effect through Dec. 31, this year, farmers were reminded today by D. H. Griffith, chairman of the Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

New Search May Begin On Spy Source

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The possibility arose today of a new search for the sources from whom atom spy Julius Rosenberg obtained American military and scientific secrets for the Russians.

Rosenberg and his wife and spy partner, Ethel, were convicted of conspiring to give atomic secrets to the Soviets and were executed in 1953. They had been particularly active as spies, the evidence showed, in 1947-48.

The Rosenbergs have now come back into prominence after death because of Russia's success with an earth satellite, and Soviet claims of having achieved an intercontinental ballistic missile.

The possibility of another hunt for those who turned over secrets to the Rosenberg spy ring came up in a statement today by Ben Mandel, research director for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Report

Mandel reported on interviews he had in prison with two of the ring, Harry Gold and David Greenglass, who was Mrs. Rosenberg's brother.

In 1947-48, Mandel quoted Greenglass as saying, Rosenberg reported that, "We now have a space platform. . . One of the boys gave me the information and I gave it to the Russians."

Rosenberg was an engineering inspector of the Army Signal Corps at the time.

Mandel's report continued: "Rosenberg also mentioned to Greenglass the atomic airplane. He said that the mathematics for the atomic airplane had already been worked out. Rosenberg said that he got it from his people and had passed it along to the Russians."

Then Mandel raised the possibility of a new search for Rosenberg's sources, saying: "It might be possible to secure from the Signal Corps a detailed analysis of the work done by Rosenberg."

Through his employment, Greenglass said, Rosenberg came to know individuals, experts, in the various plants throughout the country.

"I questioned Greenglass as to whether or not the espionage ring included any technical experts who could evaluate information on the spot.

Fathers Only Sign Is Posted

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 18 (AP)—Grandmas and grandpas got a jolt today at hospitals here.

The hospitals announced that, effective tomorrow, visiting on maternity floors will be restricted to fathers only.

The ruling is in effect until further notice because of an outbreak of colds, gripple and influenza.
